Municipal Management corporation, the organization that operates the water company for the borough authority, will be asked to operate the town's proposed new sewer system.

That decision was reached Tuesday evening by the borough authority at its meeting held in the law offices of Bullett and Bullett in the First National bank building.

Authority Chairman Ray M. Hoffman was authorized by resolution of the board to negotiate an agreement with Municipal Management to operate the sewer.

Claim Saving In Cost

Members of the board pointed out that such operation will save the borough money in that no new set-up will have to be devised for the sewer system. The Gettysburg Borough Authority (water company) office on Baltimore street will be used for both sewer and water systems. John Long, manager of the water company, would also be manager of the sewer system. The same clerical help would be used and the same accounting system would be used. Sewer and water bills would be on the same card and sent at the same time. The water company workers would also work on the sewer.

Salaries of Long and others would be raised to cover the additional duties, it was noted, but the authority held that it would be cheaper than hiring a new manager and new clerks, in addition to providing a centralization and coordination of both services under one head.

Entering into an agreement with Municipal Management would also provide the borough with the services of the outstanding engineers connected with the company, members of the board said.

The authority passed another resolution accepting the responsibility for construction and operation of a sewer system as requested in a borough council resolution of September 5. It also passed a resolution calling upon borough council to pass appropriate resolutions turning possession of the sewer disposal plant and sewer system over to the authority.

COUNTY'S SHARE OF P.O. DEFICIT TOTALS $170,000

Washington, Sept. 13 (AP)—For taxpayers of Adams county the $538,000,000 deficit of the Post Office department in the federal fiscal year which ended June 30 will mean approximately $170,000 in terms of general federal taxes, according to a study released here today by the Council of State Chambers of Commerce.

The study explained that this figure is Adams county's proportion of Pennsylvania's share of the overall loss sustained by taxpayers "through the failure of the federal government to run the post office within its income."

The Council's study showed that except for a few scattered years the post office has been doing business at a loss for 60 years. Since the end of World War II these losses were found to total $1,758,044,299 which means roughly an extra tax of $12 for every man, woman and child in the United States.

Support for an effort in Congress to cut $28,107,000 off the $555,000,000 postal deficit expected this year was urged in the study. It recalled that in expectation of this cut Postmaster General Donaldson in April ordered such economies as a reduction from two to one in the number of mail deliveries daily in residential areas, fewer mail box collections, etc. But the House of Representatives recently voted against these economies. Whether they will stick remains up to the Senate.

In addition to this 28-million-dollar saving, the study urged the Hoover Commission recommendations for putting the post office on a business-like basis be carried out.

Finding the post office and the Bell Telephone System comparable in size, number of employees and the nature of their services (communications) the study observed that the private enterprise operated at a profit and paid federal, state and local taxes last year totaling $346,144,000. It also pointed out that the Bell System acted as tax-gatherer for the government, collecting from subscribers and other users $445,000,000 last year in federal excise taxes on telephone calls.

The will provided for appointment as executor of the president of the board of trustees of Hoffman orphanage, a post presently held by John L. Gerber, York. Letters for settlement of the estate were issued to him Tuesday.

ADAMS APPLE BANKRUPTCY CASE DROPPED

A petition before the Middle District court at Scranton asking that the Adams Apple Corporation be declared bankrupt was dismissed today by Judge Frederick V. Folmer, sitting at Lewisburg. The dismissal followed a hearing at Harrisburg Monday.

The move cleared the way, attorneys said, for the completion of sale of the Adams Apple Products Corporation plant at Aspers to Duffy-Mott Corporation of New York, one of the larger processing firms in the country.

Duffy-Mott has been in possession of the plant there for some time but transfer of the property was held up because of the bankruptcy proceeding instituted against Adams Apple by a number of county farmers who were creditors of the concern.

Attorneys for Duffy-Mott at a hearing held by the creditors and Adams Apple representatives before Judge Folmer at Harrisburg Tuesday said that the New York company plans to have completed the transfer of the property from Adams Apple by Friday in order to begin full scale operations. The transfer could not be made as long as the bankruptcy proceedings were pending, and Duffy-Mott said it would have to abandon its plans to buy if it could not get title by Friday.

Adams Apple representatives told the creditors at the hearing that Duffy-Mott had agreed to pay $250,000 for the Aspers plant, but added that if the bankruptcy proceedings continued it probably would be unable to dispose of the plant for more than the RFC-guaranteed $180,000 mortgage held by a pool of Adams county banks on the property.

Adams Apple attorneys argued that the bankruptcy proceedings, if permitted to continue, would cause a loss to all concerned including David, Emmanuel and Stanley Mann, principal owners of Adams Apple. Their attorney, Edwin Malmsted, said the Manns had loaned the Adams Apple concern approximately $305,000 of their own money plus about $115,000 from Daromann, Inc., a Philadelphia real estate concern. It will take all its equipment with it, he said.

The 68 members of the company have orders to assemble at the armory here tonight. The armory staff was busy Tuesday afternoon alerting its members and today in preparing the armored cars and other vehicles for the trip to Wilkes-Barre.

To Be At Kingston Armory

Arriving in Wilkes-Barre, the Guard unit will make its temporary headquarters at the Kingston armory in the nearby city of Kingston, from which most of the Guardsmen killed in the train wreck were mobilized.

Captain Deardorff said the local unit's emergency address would be the Kingston Armory, Market street, Kingston, Pa. The unit will be on duty at the armory until released by Governor Duff. The unit does not expect to return to Gettysburg before Sunday.

The early departure hour Thursday morning was set so that the company could reach Kingston between 9 and 10 a.m. Captain Deardorff, who went to Harrisburg headquarters to receive orders for his unit Wednesday night, said the bodies of the Guardsmen killed in the wreck would begin arriving at the Kingston armory Thursday morning.

Town's Christmas Lights To Be Exchange Club Project

The Exchange Club of Gettysburg will have charge of, and assume the costs of erecting and taking down the Christmas lights in Lincoln Square and adjacent business streets, this year. This was decided at the regular dinner meeting of the club Tuesday night at Bankert's restaurant.

The project has been sponsored in the past by the Chamber of Commerce. Club members were informed that solicitation of funds from merchants for the Christmas lights met with indifferent support last year, and there was a possibility that the Chamber would abandon the project or cut down on the extent of the display this Christmas season.

After considerable discussion as to whether this was a community project for a service club, or a project that the Chamber of Commerce and the merchants should continue, it was voted to take over the Christmas lighting, with the understanding that the Exchange club will have full charge and the borough will pay for the electric current.

To Give Three Plays

The Exchange club will finance the lighting project through the sale of tickets to three plays, to be presented at the Gettysburg high school auditorium by the Allenberry players.

BULLETINS

Washington, Sept. 13 (AP)—President Truman asked Congress today to make an exception and let Gen. George C. Marshall serve as Secretary of Defense even though he is a military man. The Senate Armed Services committee immediately approved the necessary legislation. The vote was 10 to two.

Congress has to act because the law says nobody who has been an active duty as an officer of the armed forces within the past 10 years can be Secretary of Defense.

Tokyo, Sept. 13 (AP)—Six shiny new Russian-made Yak fighter planes were hit on the ground in North Korea today, bringing to 10 the number destroyed or damaged in two days. It was the biggest bag of Korean Red fighters since early in the war. Three were destroyed today, three yesterday.

Boston, Sept. 13 (AP)—A mass air and surface search was underway today for 12 crewmen of the New Bedford fisherman Theresa A., which sank in raging seas kicked up by an Atlantic hurricane. The men abandoned the 106-foot craft in a small dory 100 miles off Nantucket yesterday.

Three coast guard ships and two planes were engaged in the search. The planes left the Quonset, R. I., naval air station and Floyd Bennett Field, New York, early today.

Surface Section Of Baltimore Street

The State highway department Tuesday added a coating of rough stone, approximately 20 feet in width in the center of Baltimore street, at the curve in the highway just above the Jennie Wade house.

The rougher finish is designed to prevent skidding by automobiles or trucks rounding the curve. It was suggested by Burgess William G. Weaver at the last meeting of the borough council. Burgess Weaver said the slippery condition of the highway at this point had caused a recent accident in which a truck sideswiped an automobile.

392 COUNTIANS LISTED TO VOTE

Three hundred ninety-two countians have registered so far with the special registrars currently touring the county. It was announced today. The registrars will complete their tour Friday. They spent Tuesday in New Oxford and today at Biglerville. Thursday they will be at Fairfield. During the period they estimate approximately 700 will appear before them to obtain permission to vote at the forthcoming general election.

Election officials, however, felt that the number added to the list of eligible voters by the special registrars and at the court house here by the time the registration books close Saturday night will have little effect on the total of registered voters in the county.

They pointed out that while possibly 1,000 new voters will be enrolled, approximately that many will have to be dropped from the list of registered voters for failure to cast their ballot within the past two years.

The system of dropping names when voters have not been at the polling place to vote within two years provides the county with a method of getting rid of the names of those who may have moved away or died. It also, however, forces those who have not voted in two years to signify their intention to remain voters. Cards are sent out to those who fail to vote within the specified time asking if they wish to continue as voters. If they fail to reply the names are dropped.

So far 195 new Republicans have been listed by the special registrars. The number of new Democrats is 96 and non-partisan voters, three. At New Oxford Tuesday 11 Republicans and 19 Democrats were listed. The registrars also handle changes of address and name. Saturday night the registration books close until after the November election.

Allied Troops Promised They Soon Will Take Offensive In Battle Against Red Koreans

By LEIF ERICKSON

Tokyo, Sept. 13 (AP)—Allied troops got word today that they will kick off the offensive soon against the big Red Korean war machine they have battled to a standstill for a month.

Lt. Gen. Walton H. Walker, allied ground commander in Korea, said in a fighting talk to his frontline troops: "Soon we are going to give up the attitude of defense x x x as soon as we start forward and break the crust in front of us, the enemy will fold. We can feel a weakening of the enemy now . . . in some positions they are actually pulling out."

The U. S. Eighth army commander described the long weeks of delaying action as necessary "agony and suffering." Only through such an ordeal, he said, could the Allies build up power for an offensive.

Flatten Red Bulge

Walker's fighting talk came as Allied troops flattened the Red Korean bulge on the northeast front in a triple-threat power drive.

The United Nations gains in a three-day offensive were the greatest in nearly a month. They sealed much of the gap torn last week by Communists in their massive breakthrough south from Kijye near the east coast.

Resurgent South Korean troops, driving east from Yongchon and northwest from Kyongju, rolled back the Communists.

To the east, a mixed force of South Koreans and Americans rammed shut the southern gate of a mountain corridor, trapping 3,000 Red Koreans.

Davidson On End Run

This task force was led by 47-year-old Brig. Gen. Gar Davidson, former West Point football coach and right end. It was brilliant end sweep west from the Pohang area by "Task Force Davidson" that trapped the Reds.

Along the 125-mile Allied defense perimeter, this was the picture: Pohang-Yongchon sector—"Task Force Davidson" closed a three-mile gap between Angang and Pohang. From the west, the South Korean Eighth Division thrust three-fourths of the way to Red-held Angang. It has punched 12 miles in three days. A South Korean regiment drove northwest from Kyongju to close this last gap. Reds dug in on Hill 343, southwest of Angang, were resisting fiercely.

Airport Threat Lifted

Taegu sector—U. S. First Cavalry Division elements attacked a strongly-fortified hill eight miles north of Taegu. This was in the immediate area where they stormed and won a hill Tuesday at heavy cost. Other units seized high ground north of the Waegwan area, a few miles west. The Reds pushed foot troopers (Please Turn to Page 2)

Gas Line Blast Near Round Hill

A 20-foot section of the Eastern States Transmission lines exploded near Round Hill about 2 o'clock this morning, digging a crater in the earth about 30 feet long and six feet wide.

The roaring noise caused by the explosion of the gas line was heard for miles around. No other damage was done and the Eastern States company had a crew working on the damaged line, within a short time. It was expected that the section of pipe that gave way under the pressure of the gas will be replaced today.

Since the "Big Inch" and "Little Inch" lines run almost side by side it was not believed that the failure caused any difficulties to gas users in communities served by the transmission company.

FIREMEN TO MEET

The regular September meeting of the Gettysburg Fire company will be held this evening at 7:30 o'clock in the engine house on East Middle street.

The cases of Mrs. Paul Clapsaddle, Biglerville, and her neighbor, Mrs. Mary Sillik, scheduled for hearings today, were dismissed when both women withdrew their respective charges and paid the costs.

Mrs. Sillik had charged Mrs. Clapsaddle with assault and battery and surety of the peace following a "fight" between the two women at Biglerville on September 1. The charge was filed before Justice of the Peace John H. Baschore.

Mrs. Clapsaddle in turn filed a charge of assault against Mrs. Sillik before Justice of the Peace Robert P. Snyder.

Orphanage Given $6,000 Estate

The entire estate of Edward S. Shellenberger, late of Conewago township, who died September 5, was left to the George W. and Agnes Hoffman Orphanage, near Littlestown.

His will was probated Tuesday in the office of Register of Wills Claude P. Young, York county. The estate is tentatively valued at $6,000. Of this amount, $3,000 is in real estate and a like amount is in personal property.

The will provided for appointment as executor of the president of the board of trustees of Hoffman orphanage, a post presently held by John L. Gerber, York. Letters for settlement of the estate were issued to him Tuesday.

ADAMS APPLE BANKRUPTCY CASE DROPPED

A petition before the Middle District court at Scranton asking that the Adams Apple Corporation be declared bankrupt was dismissed today by Judge Frederick V. Palmer, sitting at Lewisburg. The dismissal followed a hearing at Harrisburg Monday.

The move cleared the way, attorneys said, for the completion of sale of the Adams Apple Products Corporation plant at Aspers to the Duffy-Mott Corporation of New York, one of the larger processing firms in the country.

The Duffy-Mott has been in possession of the plant there for some time but transfer of the property was held up because of the bankruptcy proceeding instituted against Adams Apple by a number of county farmers who were creditors of the concern.

Attorneys for Duffy-Mott at a hearing held by the creditors and Adams Apple representatives before Judge Palmer at Harrisburg Tuesday said that the New York company plans to have completed the transfer of the property from Adams Apple by Friday in order to begin full scale operations. The transfer could not be made as long as the bankruptcy proceedings were pending, and Duffy-Mott said it would have to abandon its plans to buy if it could not get title by Friday.

Adams Apple representatives told the creditors at the hearing that Duffy-Mott had agreed to pay $259,300 for the Aspers plant, but added that if the bankruptcy proceedings continued it probably would be unable to dispose of the plant for more than the RFC-guaranteed $160,000 mortgage held by a pool of Adams county banks on the property.

Adams Apple attorneys argued that the bankruptcy proceedings, if permitted to continue, would cause a loss to all concerned including David, Emmanuel and Stanley Mann, principal owners of Adams Apple. Their attorney, Edwin Malmend, said the Manns had loaned the Adams Apple concern approximately $305,000 of their own money plus about $115,000 from Daromann, Inc., a Philadelphia real estate concern. After considerable discussion as to whether this was a community project for a service club, or a project that the Chamber of Commerce and the merchants should continue, it was voted to take over the Christmas lighting, with the understanding that the Exchange club will have full charge and the borough will pay for the electric current.

To Give Three Plays

The Exchange club will finance the lighting project through the sale of tickets to three plays, to be presented at the Gettysburg high school auditorium by the Allenberry players.

Dr. Robert S. Lefever, vice president of the club and chairman of the program committee, announced details to the club members Tuesday night.

The first of the three-act plays, "The Hasty Heart," a wartime drama, will be presented on October 18; the second, "Papa Is All," a Pennsylvania Dutch dialect comedy, on December 7, and the third, "The Male Animal," a farce, on April 26.

Elected To Board

Curtain time will be 8:40 p.m. for each of the three plays, which will be under the direction of Richard North Gage, managing director of the Allenberry players.

The advance sale of tickets will open shortly. Single tickets will be priced at $1.50, plus 30 cents tax. Books of tickets for all three plays will be sold at $3, which will include the tax.

Allied Troops Promised They Soon Will Take Offensive In Battle Against Red Koreans

By LEIF ERICKSON

Kyoo, Sept. 13 (AP)—Allied troops got word today that they will kick off the offensive soon against the big Red Korean war machine they have battled to a standstill for a month.

Lt. Gen. Walton H. Walker, allied ground commander in Korea, said in a fighting talk to his frontline troops: "Soon we are going to give up the attitude of defense x x x as soon as we start forward and break the crust in front of us, the enemy will fold. We can feel a 'wakening' of the enemy now . . . in some positions they are actually pulling out."

The U. S. Eighth army commander described the long weeks of delaying action as necessary "agony and suffering." Only through such an ordeal, he said, could the Allies build up power for an offensive.

Flatten Red Bulge

Walker's fighting talk came as Allied troops flattened the Red Korean bulge on the northeast front in a triple-threat power drive.

The United Nations gains in a three-day offensive were the greatest in nearly a month. They sealed much of the gap torn last week by Communists in their massive breakthrough south from Kigye near the east coast.

Resurgent South Korean troops, driving east from Yongchon and northwest from Kyongju, rolled back the Communists.

To the east, a mixed force of South Koreans and Americans rammed shut the southern gate of a mountain corridor, trapping 3,000 Red Koreans.

Davidson On End Run

This task force was lead by 47-year-old Brig. Gen. Gar Davidson, former West Point football coach and right end. It was brilliant end sweep west from the Pohang area by "Task Force Davidson" that trapped the Reds.

Along the 125-mile Allied defense perimeter, this was the picture: Pohang—Yongchon sector—"Task Force Davidson" closed a three-mile gap between Angang and Pohang. From the west, the South Korean Eighth Division thrust three-fourths of the way to Red-held Angang. It has punched 12 miles in three days. A South Korean regiment drove northwest from Kyongju to close this last gap. Reds dug in on Hill 343, southwest of Angang, were resisting fiercely.

Gas Line Blast Near Round Hill

A 20-foot section of the Eastern States Transmission lines exploded near Round Hill about 2 o'clock this morning, digging a crater in the earth about 30 feet long and six feet wide.

The roaring noise caused by the explosion of the gas line was heard for miles around. No other damage was done and the Eastern States company had a crew working on the damaged line, within a short time. It was expected that the section of pipe that gave way under the pressure of the gas will be replaced today.

Since the "Big Inch" and "Little Inch" lines run almost side by side it was not believed that the failure caused any difficulties to gas users in communities served by the transmission company.

COUNTY'S SHARE OF P.O. DEFICIT TOTALS $170,000

Washington, Sept. 13 —For taxpayers of Adams county the $558,000 deficit of the Post Office department in the federal fiscal year which ended June 30 will mean approximately $170,000 in terms of general federal taxes, according to a study released here today by the Council of State Chambers of Commerce.

The study explained that this figure is Adams county's proportion of Pennsylvania's share of the overall loss sustained by taxpayers "through the failure of the federal government to run the post office within its income."

The Council's study showed that except for a few scattered years the post office has been doing business at a loss for 60 years. Since the end of World War II these losses were found to total $1,758,044.29 which means roughly an extra tax of $12 for every man, woman and child in the United States.

Support for an effort in Congress to cut $28,107,000 off the $555,000,000 postal deficit expected this year was urged in the study. It recalled that in expectation of this cut Postmaster General Donaldson in April ordered such economies as a reduction from two to one in the number of mail deliveries daily in residential areas, fewer mail box collections, etc. But the House of Representatives recently voted against these economies. Whether they will stick remains up to the Senate.

In addition to this 28-million-dollar saving, the study urged the Hoover Commission recommendations for putting the post office on a business-like basis be carried out.

Finding the post office and the Bell Telephone System comparable in size, number of employees and the nature of their services (communications) the study observed that the private enterprise operated at a profit and paid federal, state and local taxes last year totaling $346,144,000. It also pointed out that the Bell System acted as tax-gatherer for the government, collecting from subscribers and other users $445,000,000 last year in federal excise taxes on telephone calls.

BULLETINS

Washington, Sept. 13 (AP)—President Truman asked Congress today to make an exception and let Gen. George C. Marshall serve as Secretary of Defense even though he is a military man. The Senate Armed Services committee immediately approved the necessary legislation. The vote was 19 to two.

Congress has to act because the law says nobody who has been an active duty as an officer of the armed forces within the past 10 years can be Secretary of Defense.

Tokyo, Sept. 13 (AP)—Six shiny new Russian-made Yak fighter planes were hit on the ground in North Korea today, bringing to 10 the number destroyed or damaged in two days. It was the biggest bag of Korean Red fighters since early in the war. Three were destroyed today, three yesterday.

Boston, Sept. 13 (AP)—A mass air and surface search was underway today for 12 crewmen of the New Bedford fisherman Theresa A., which sank in raging seas kicked up by an Atlantic hurricane. The men abandoned the 106-foot craft in a small dory 100 miles off Nantucket yesterday.

Three coast guard ships and two planes were engaged in the search. The planes left the Quonset, R. I., naval air station and Floyd Bennett Field, New York, early today.

Surface Section Of Baltimore Street

The State highway department Tuesday added a coating of rough stone, approximately 20 feet in width in the center of Baltimore street, at the curve in the highway just above the Jennie Wade house.

The rougher finish is designed to prevent skidding by automobiles or trucks rounding the curve. It was suggested by Burgess William G. Weaver at the last meeting of the borough council. Burgess Weaver said the slippery condition of the highway at this point had caused a recent accident in which a truck sideswiped an automobile.

392 COUNTIANS LISTED TO VOTE

Three hundred ninety-two countians have registered so far with the special registrars currently touring the county, it was announced today. The registrars will complete their tour Friday. They spent Tuesday in New Oxford and today at Biglerville. Thursday they will be at Fairfield. During the period they estimate approximately 700 will appear before them to obtain permission to vote at the forthcoming general election.

Election officials, however, felt that the number added to the list of eligible voters by the special registrars and at the court house here by the time the registration books close Saturday night will have little effect on the total of registered voters in the county.

They pointed out that while possibly 1,000 new voters will be enrolled, approximately that many will have to be dropped from the list of registered voters for failure to cast their ballot within the past two years.

The system of dropping names when voters have not been at the polling place to vote within two years provides the county with a method of getting rid of the names of those who may have moved away or died. It is also, however, forces those who have not voted in two years to signify their intention to remain voters. Cards are sent out to those who fail to vote within the specified time asking if they wish to continue as voters. If they fail to reply the names are dropped.

So far 193 new Republicans have been listed by the special registrars. The number of new Democrats is 96 and non-partisan voters, three. At New Oxford Tuesday 11 Republicans and 19 Democrats were listed.

The registrars also handle changes of address and name. Saturday night the registration books close until after the November election.

ENGINEER GIVES STORY OF WRECK WHERE 33 DIED

Pittsburgh, Sept. 13 (AP)—A spare, graying Pennsylvania railroad engineer testified today he was trying to make up time when his crack passenger train rammed the rear of a troop train, killing 33 National Guardsmen.

William Eller, 65-year-old engineer of the Pennsylvania's "Spirit of St. Louis," testified in near whispers at the opening of an investigation into the fatal Ohio crash by the Interstate Commerce Commission, the railroad, the Ohio Public Utility Commission and the army.

Eller testified he was 29 minutes late leaving Pittsburgh and had lost another minute enroute. He said visibility at the time of the wreck in the pre-dawn hours Monday was restricted because of fog. The crash occurred near Coshocton, Ohio.

Didn't Cut Speed Enough

The veteran engineer, described by his fireman as "one of the most alert and capable men I know," told how he reduced speed but "not enough" at the first approach block before the stalled troop train.

Eller guessed his speed at the time at 50 miles per hour. ICC regulations require that speed be reduced to 30 miles an hour at an approach block so the train can come to a complete stop at the next stop and proceed sign.

The engineer testified he did not apply his service brake until he reached the stop and proceed signal near the crash scene. He said he did not apply his emergency until he passed the signal.

At about the time he passed the "stop and proceed" signal, Eller admitted he saw the stalled troop train. He said: "It was very close."

Signals Were Working

In reply to an ICC question as to whether both wayside and cab signals were working properly, Eller murmured: "Yes."

Eller said he saw the flares and signals set out at the rear of the troop train by a flagman aboard the stalled train. He said he applied the emergency brake immediately.

Eller's fireman, E. J. Kearns, testified Eller was "one of the most alert, capable men in railroad service."

Kearns said he saw the flagman of the stalled troop train standing just east of the automatic block signal. He testified the rear of the stalled train was about 50 car lengths beyond the flagman.

Masan sector—American big guns wiped out 200 Red Koreans as they stormed a dominant peak four miles south of the Nam-Nakdong river junction. U. S. 25th Division engineers battled 300 Reds who had infiltrated the line. Air support was called to help wipe out the pocket.

The triple-pronged drive on the northeast front lifted a threat to Pohang airport and eased a situation that was considered "desperate" only nine days ago.

A "Major Mystery"

AP Correspondent Ben Price said the Reds' failure to exploit their massive breakthrough was "one of the major mysteries" of the war. The Reds swept in force through Angang to the outskirts of Kyongju and into Yongchon, gateway to Taegu.

"Task Force Davidson" was called to wipe out the threat to Pohang airport. The Reds had driven a wedge last week-end five miles deep and three miles wide into the Allied line between Angang and Pohang. We watched the penetration and it gradually grew worse," said Davidson.

The handsome, ex-football star led a flying column of South Koreans and Americans west across "Billy Goat" country—or worse. The Reds were massed in a corridor running between high peaks. South Koreans already had sealed the northern pass. Davidson's composite force swept over three ridges at the southern gate.

Allied warplanes showered jellied gasoline fire-bombs and machine-gun fire at the Communists, dug in on flinty slopes. "Task Force Davidson" stormed the heights.

MISSION GROUP 70 YEARS OLD

The Women's Missionary society of Christ Lutheran church commemorated the founding of the society 70 years ago with a special service held in the Sunday school room on Monday evening. Mrs. W. C. Waltemyer led the devotional period which consisted of a brief history of the society as told by the original records of the group. Mrs. Russell Fink sang two solos emphasizing the light of the world. An effective candle light and floral setting was used.

Mrs. Herbert Schmidt, program chairman, introduced Dr. J. M. Myers, who used as his topic "Stewardship" in the Biblical and historical sense. Dr. Myers stressed that stewardship to be approved of God must be based on the conviction that "the earth is the Lord's and the fullness thereof. The world and they that dwell therein." True stewardship, he said, involves the use of time to the glory of God, the use of talents to the glory of God, and from these two will naturally follow the use of money to the glory of God. He concluded his address with a challenge to the women of the Missionary society to continue their good work as stewards of God until salvation shall come unto the uttermost parts of the world.

A business meeting followed with Mrs. E. A. Crouse presiding.

Mrs. John Kaltreider, Mrs. Paul Spangler and Mrs. Charles Black, social committee, were in charge of the informal hour which followed. The next meeting of the group will be held October 2 at 7:30 p.m.

Sen. Tobey Wins In New Hampshire

(By The Associated Press)

Senator Charles W. Tobey, self-styled liberal fighting one of the toughest battles of his political career, won nomination to a third term in New Hampshire's rough and tumble Republican primary Tuesday.

The 70-year-old lawmaker slipped through with a 1,127 vote margin over 34-year-old Wesley Powell, World War II veteran and former secretary to Senator Styles Bridges (R-N.H.).

Powell campaigned on the theme that Tobey was a "Truman Republican" and "too liberal." He said he would ask for a recount. The unofficial tally was: Tobey 39,003, Powell 37,876.

SENATE OKAYS ANTI-RED BILL

Washington, Sept. 13 (AP)—A bill aimed at stifling Communist activities all along the home front headed today for a Senate-House conference as the first step toward a probable veto by President Truman.

It received an overwhelming 70 to 7 vote of approval in the Senate late yesterday after a day of hectic and often confused maneuvering that eventually welded two opposing measures into one.

Briefly the bill provides for:

1. The internment of dangerous Reds in time of war, invasion or insurrection.

2. Registration of Communist and Communist front organizations.
3. Barring Reds from government jobs and obtaining passports.
4. New legal curbs on sabotage and espionage.

5. New weapons to be used to exclude and deport aliens considered to be subversive.
6. Outlawing conspiracies to set up a "totalitarian dictatorship" in the United States.

Senator Kilgore (D-W. Va.) had introduced the internment plan as a substitute for the sweeping catch-all bill sponsored by Chairman McCarran (D-Nev.) of the Senate judiciary committee. As a substitute it was defeated 50 to 23.

ADAMS APPLE

cern principally owned by them, it was stated.

Under the schedule set up the Manns will get about $40,000 return on the money they lent personally and through their company.

To Get At Least $500

Under the agreement between the creditors and Adams Apple, which led to dismissal of the bankruptcy petition, all creditors with claims of $500 or less will be paid in full. Claims above $500 will receive at least 50 per cent, but no less than $500, including a $72,000 claim of Continental Can corporation.

About 399 creditors were involved in the proceedings, a great number of them county farmers whose claims were in the $500 or less classification.

Judge Folmer noted that the petition was dismissed only upon the agreement of all parties concerned. A sworn certificate was presented by Attorney Maimed that all creditors had been notified at least 10 days before the hearing was held. Non-attendance of creditors at the hearing was considered by the court as evidence of approval of the plan presented by the Adams Apple attorneys.

Harrisburg, Sept. 13 (AP)—Rainy weather may delay the scheduled October 1 opening of the $87,000,000 eastern extension of the Pennsylvania turnpike. Thomas J. News Briefs

Washington, Sept. 13 (AP)—Speedier handling of railway freight traffic "to promote the national defense" was ordered yesterday by the Interstate Commerce Commission. The new spur to defense mobilization sets a 24-hour limit to the turn around of freight cars ready to move.

One section of the order called for a stiff increase in "demurrage" rates paid by shippers for keeping freight cars idle beyond the 48-hour free time period allowed for loading and unloading.

Shawnee-on-Delaware, Pa., Sept. 13 (AP)—Legislators of Pennsylvania, New York, New Jersey and Delaware will be asked to authorize a huge program for development of the water supply and hydro-electric power of the Delaware river basin. The Interstate Commerce Commission on the Delaware river basin (Inodel) voted to seek the legislature's approval of a program outlined during the annual Inodel two-day session, ending yesterday.

Tokyo, Sept. 13 (AP)—Frontline troops in Korea who like beer will continue to get it—for free. This is on the word of a high army official who declined use of his name lest he get all foamed up in controversy. An army order yesterday removing the one-can-a-day ration in Korea, raised a howl of protest heard as far as Washington. The source said today this has resulted in a compromise.

On the Masan Front, Korea, Sept. 13 (AP)—United Nations surrender tickets are bringing in some Korean Reds. One Communist came through U. S. 25th Division lines today waving a leaflet. JOINTURE TOLD ABOUT CHANGES IN CURRICULUM

Supervising Principal Paul E. King explained several changes in the school curriculum to the executive board of the Littlestown jointure at the monthly meeting in his office Tuesday evening. "General agriculture and home nursing have been added to the tenth grade requirements; physics no longer alternates with chemistry but is now offered in the eleventh grade," he said. "Senior girls' shop and senior boys' home economics have been scheduled for two periods a week each and are mandatory on the part of all twelfth graders.

"Plans are being made for the enlargement of the guidance program with each home room teacher making a contribution to the integral part of the whole program. School banking has been extended to include the tenth grade. Mr. Bream has been assigned as visual aid director and the program of visual aid instructions which will cover all grades and all schools, rural and local, has been worked out."

Mr. King also stated that one 16MM sound projector, one 35MM slide projector, and one opaque slide machine, together with three screens, have been received from the federal government.

In explaining the activities fee in the high school, King said, "It has been set at $3.50 and includes the usual activities as outlined in other years, excepting that instead of the school picnic, funds from this fee will provide a dance and party for the senior high group and a part of the junior high group."

The new oil burner has been completely installed and the renovations under the auditorium are practically completed, King said.

"The cafeteria had its formal opening September 8 and its direction has been allocated to several teachers," King said. Mrs. Walker has been assigned the responsibility of taking care of the dining room; Mr. Schellhase will serve as the accountant and take care of all receipts and inventories; Mrs. Sheely, in connection with the girls of the home economics department, will be responsible for the menu, and Mrs. Unger, the cafeteria cook, will place all orders for food with the same to be checked through the office.

Enrollment Is 978

All wages and bills incidental to the operation of the cafeteria will be paid through and by the school treasurer. A new stockroom has been made available where all incoming foods will be stored and a perpetual inventory will be kept of all foods on hand.

King reported revised figures on the enrollment of the jointure, the total being 978 instead of 971 as previously reported. The revised enrollment by schools is: Germany township: Oak Grove, 31 and Mt. Pleasant, 24; Littlestown borough: First grade, 64; second, 61; third, 45; fourth, 31; fifth, 31; sixth, 85; seventh, 92; eighth, 85; ninth, 81; tenth, 73; eleventh, 69; twelfth, 42; Mt. Joy: Hoffman school, Room 1, 19; room 2, 30; room 3, 32; Union township: Center, 26; Pleasant Hill, 25; Pine Grove, 32. The total in grades one to six is 536, and grades seven through 12 is 442. Some difficulties were encountered in transportation routes as set up by the committee. A few changes were made and the schools are operating

DETROIT MOVES AHEAD; PHILS SHUTOUT CARDS

(By The Associated Press)

The six and a half games separating the front-running Philadelphia Phillies and the runner-up Brooklyn Dodgers in the National League pennant race loom bigger and bigger every day.

With the flag scramble in the home stretch, the pressure is definitely on the Dodgers while the Phils can afford to coast.

The Philadelphia Whiz Kids maintained that six and a half game margin by edging past the St. Louis Cardinals 1-0 last night behind the five-hit pitching of righthander Robin Roberts.

The Cards' Max Lanier and Al Brazie gave up only three hits but one was a fifth-inning homer by catcher Andy Seminick.

Brooklyn kept its pennant hopes alive by sliding past Ewell Blackwell and the Cincinnati Reds 3-1. Blackwell pitched a one-hitter but lost the game in the eighth inning when he hit a batter, committed an error and wild pitched home a run that broke a 1-1 tie.

With big Luke Easter as the ringleader, the smarting Cleveland Indians are moving back into the American league pennant race in the role of "spoilers."

Win On Homerun

Knocked out of contention and blasted by their bosses, the Indians are out to redeem themselves at the expense of the three remaining contenders—Boston, New York and Detroit.

They began to reap revenge last night by defeating the New York Yankees, 8-7, on a three-run homer by Easter in the ninth inning.

The defeat sent the Yankees into second place, a half game back of the Detroit Tigers who scored a 3-2 afternoon triumph over the Washington Senators.

Cleveland has one more game with the Yanks, six with the Tigers and two with the third-place Boston Red Sox. The Red Sox, still moving relentlessly forward, climbed within a game of the lead by edging the Chicago White Sox, 2-1.

Home runs in the first two innings by Joe DiMaggio, Phil Rizzuto and Yogi Berra shot the Yanks off to 6-0 lead in a rain-soaked game.

Early Wynn was the victim of the Yankee bombardment but after that the world champions were effectively checked by Dick Weik, Sad Sam Zoldak and Steve Gromek.

Homers by Larry Doby and Easter shaved the deficit to 6-4 by the fifth. It appeared the Yanks had the game in the bag when Jim Hegan grounded out to open the Cleveland ninth.

Reynolds Blows Up

Allie Reynolds, who had allowed only four hits, blew up in the ninth and walked two batters. He was hurriedly lifted for Tom Ferriek. Bob Kennedy greeted Ferriek with a run-scoring double. Doby struck out but Easter then slammed Ferriek's first pitch over the rightfield fence to break up the game.

The Tigers had rough sledding before squashing the Senators. Old Diz Trout went all the way for the Bengals and permitted eight hits while his mates collected only five off Gene Bearden and Mickey Harris.

Detroit clipped Bearden for two runs in the third on a walk and doubles by George Kell and Vic Wertz. Wertz homered for the winning run in the fifth. The Senators scored in the sixth and added their final run in the eighth on a homer by Ed Stewart.

Sox Nip Chicago

Lefty Mel Parnell turned in a neat five-hitter in recording his 16th victory and eighth straight for the Red Sox under the lights in Chicago. The Sox now have won 24 out of their last 27 games.

All of the scoring took place in the first two innings. The Sox tallied in the first on singles by Johnny Pesky, Bill Goodman and Vern Stephens' long fly. They scored the winning run in the next inning on a single by Al Zarilla, infield out, wild pitch and a single by Dom DiMaggio.

The St. Louis Browns, behind the three-hit pitching of Al Widmar, blanked the Philadelphia Athletics, 6-0.

The New York Giants' Sheldon Jones blanked the Pittsburgh Pirates, 3-0, for the 17th shutout by the Giants this year.

The Giants moved to within a half game of the third-place Boston Braves who dropped a 3-1 night game decision to Bobo Rush and the Chicago Cubs.

Interstate League

Wilmington, Del., Sept. 13 (AP)—Wilmington's pennant winning Blue Rocks and the second place Hagerstown Braves open the final series of the playoffs for the Governor's cup in the Class B Interstate League tonight.

Wilmington qualified for the final round last night by defeating Harrisburg 4-2—the fourth decision in seven games for the Blue Rocks. Hagerstown, previously, had moved into the best of seven final series by beating Trenton four games to one.

Skeeter Newsome, manager of the Blue Rocks, has indicated he'll send either Jack Sanford (12-4) or Dick Smullen (11-10) against the Braves in the first game. Hagerstown's mound choice is Al Bennet.

The first two games are scheduled

Eastern League

(By The Associated Press)

The Binghamton Triplets, one game up on the Albany Senators in their semi-final, Eastern League play-off, send Hugh Radcliffe to the mound tonight to oppose Albany's Inman Chambers.

Bill Freese cooled the Senators' hopes last night when his teammates exploded with an 11-hit attack that was good for an 11-1 victory.

The league's second semi-final series opens tonight at Hartford, where the Chiefs entertain the pennant-winning Wilkes-Barre Indians.

The game, originally scheduled for Wilkes-Barre, was transferred because the Pennsylvania city is observing a week of mourning for national guardsmen killed in a train wreck in Ohio Monday.

The Chiefs also will be hosts for the second game tomorrow night. The clubs have not decided where the rest of the best-of-seven series will be played, but there is a possibility all will take place in Hartford.

CANNER SQUAD AT WAYNESBORO FRIDAY NIGHT

Biglerville's gridiron specialists emerged from their tussle with Littlestown last Friday evening without sustaining any injuries and are now getting set to tackle Waynesboro in a non-conference game to be played Friday evening at Waynesboro.

At the helm now is Coach Russ Kane. Coach Kane was formerly assistant coach on a coaching staff headed by Gene Haas. Gene has been forced to hang up his coaching togs for an officer's uniform in the Army's 28th Division now going into training at Camp Atterbury, Ind.

Assisting Coach Kane are Charles Goodling and Hobart Benchoff. Taking over the chores as Junior high helmets are Clair Settle and Bruce Sheats.

Expected to see their share of action are Jacobs, Wertz and Starry in the line and Orner and Coulson in the backfield.

Biglerville's final opponent last year was Waynesboro. The Canners won the game 21 to 12. This year the Waynesboro team is figured to be heavier than it was last year. Biglerville will match this with a fairly heavy line and a fast backfield.

Sports Roundup

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.

New York, Sept. 13 (AP)—Branch Rickey tabs the Phillies' Eddie Sawyer as the first "teaching manager" to come into major leagues in years.

But that doesn't mean Eddie could win a pennant with Schoolboy Rowe. . . . New (to us) position in football coaching is held by Georgia's Quinton Lumpkin, who is listed as "freshman coach and monitor of football players' dormitory."

... Hank Iba, Oklahoma A. and M. athletic director and basketball coach, is up and around again after spending most of his summer vacation in bed, due to a back injury. . . . After Bert Bell finished orating about all the "great" football teams in the National league this season, one slightly cynical N. Y. scribe murmured: "It's gonna be a dead heat."

OUCH

Headline: "Deddens Signed by Reds." . . . That's nothing new. They've had dead "uns in Cincinnati for years.

SHORTS AND SHELLS

Wid Matthews, the Cubs scout, has tacked a "can't miss" sign on Bob Schultz, the Nashville lefty who moves to Chicago next season. . . . Tug Wilson's irate letter to Baseball Commissioner Chandler about the Yankees' signing of Bill Skowron drew a chuckle from the college coaches, who had been thinking and saying the same thing for several years. . . . Tug came into the negotiations with the idea that the NCAA could swing some weight in dealing with professional baseball. . . . The Football Giants have been using Emlien Tunnell as a "T" quarterback in practice and the defense specialist has had the coaches popeyed a couple of times by tossing long, accurate passes when he apparently had been trapped. . . . Harry Staudreher, Jr., is a sophomore candidate for the Michigan football team. . . . Maybe he read those "Good bye Harry" signs at Madison, Wis., too.

FREE THROWS

Houston Betty, Missouri's fine coach who played a pretty rugged brand of football a dozen or so years ago, has one pet peeve. That is the failure of the Missouri quarterbacks to go downfield and knock some one down after they get rid of the ball. . . . When practice was just starting this fall, Betty intimated that he had one bit of advice to offer to the current crop of quarterbacks. . . . "What's that, Rooby?" asked another coach. . . . In dead earnest, Betty replied: "I'd like to tell them to feel free to block out there."

Mrs. Porter Loses To Philadelphian

Atlanta, Sept. 13 (AP)—The queen no longer defends her crown in the Golden Anniversary Women's National Amateur Golf tournament. And the tide for Texas had begun to run strong.

Mrs. Mark A. Porter, known in golf simply as Dot Germain Porter of Westmont, N. J., whipped the field to win the 1919 national amateur, but here at the East Lake course she lasted no longer than the second round.

Mrs. Porter yesterday took a 1-up whipping from Mrs. J. Albert Hayes of Philadelphia on the 19th hole. The Porter putter faltered on numerous greens, especially on the 19th where she missed a four-foot run to the cup. Mrs. Hayes played almost as poorly on the 6,521-yard course as the champion. Her medal score for 19 holes was 89, the same as Mrs. Porter's, Par is 37-37-75.

Fifteen-year-old Barbara McIntire, of Toledo, lost 6-5 to Dot Kieley, the Long Beach, Calif., favorite. Miss Kieley met Ruth Woodward, Fall River, Mass., in this morning's third round and Mrs. Hayes played Mrs. Harold Stone, Greenville, S. C.

Lamotta Expected To Keep His Title

Detroit, Sept. 13 (AP)—Middleweight Champion Jake LaMotta is expected to tame Laurent (Tarzan) Daughtle of France tonight in a promising 15-round title bout at the Olympia stadium. Ring time is 10:00 p.m., Eastern Standard Time.

Back in the city where he wrestled the crown from another Frenchman—the late Marcel Cerdan—15 months ago, LaMotta rules a 5 to 9 favorite. No knockout is predicted.

With radio and television barred from this international test, Promoter Nick Londes of the International Boxing club looks for a crowd of 13,000 to pay $109,000. If he is right, it will be a new Detroit indoor record. The old mark of $88,522 was set in 1947 for a welter title battle between Ray Robinson and Chuck Taylor.

Delegates of the National Boxing association convention, which ruled LaMotta or Daughtle must give Robinson a shot at the crown within six months, will be honored guests.

Youngstown, O., Sept. 13 (AP)—Only three teams remained undefeated today as the fourth round started in the National Amateur Baseball federation tournament.

Boasting unblemished records among the 10 clubs still in the double elimination championship were New York, defending champion; Detroit and Beaver Falls, Pa. In yesterday's action, Miami eliminated Philadelphia 5-0 and Beaver Falls upset Cincinnati 8-5.

Test plots of safflower have yielded up to 3,600 pounds of seed per acre.

Rumor Simmons May Be Free For Series

Camp Atterbury, Ind., Sept. 13 (AP)—There are rumors going around the federalized 28th Division of the Pennsylvania National Guard that Pfc. Curt Simmons will be released to pitch in the World Series if the Philadelphia Phillies win the National league pennant.

Simmons' commanding officer, Capt. Howard Emhardt of the headquarters battery for the division's artillery, wouldn't object to letting the star left-hander pitch.

"But I'm mum on that subject," he said yesterday, "but I'm certainly not going to object if they want to send him over there." There was no comment from headquarters.

The general impression was that a ruling must come from higher authorities.

Simmons said he had been thinking mostly of what kind of a soldier I'll make. I'm going to try to make a good one."

"Sure," he added, "I would like to pitch in the series but I don't think I'll be in shape. The army isn't the right kind of training for a pitcher. They run you too much. You're worn out too often."

Reading, Pa., Sept. 13 (AP)—The two features on the Grand Circuit harness racing program at the Reading fairgrounds yesterday were won by Bernie Hanover and McGee and Snow's Wayzoff.

Bernie Hanover, brown colt owned by Cleo Young, of Timmonsville, S. C., captured the $13,728 Reading Fair futurity for two-year-old trotters.

WHY MARSHALL FOR SO MANY TOP U.S. JOBS?

By JAMES MARLOW

Washington, Sept. 13 (AP)—This writer has great respect for General George C. Marshall as a man, as a citizen, as a soldier, and as a public servant.

So what follows here is not meant as a criticism of him. But his selection by President Truman to succeed Louis Johnson as Secretary of Defense raises one question at once: Why, in a country of 150,000,000 people, does one man, like General Marshall, have to serve in one critical job after another? Are no other men capable of filling critical jobs well?

Was Chief of Staff

Marshall was Chief of Staff during World War II. He retired in 1945, thinking that after his long army career and world war duties he could get a well-earned rest.

But the situation in China—between Chiang Kai-shek and the Communists—was so bad that Mr. Truman called the general out of retirement and sent him to China as the one man capable of mediating the dispute.

Then when Marshall finished that job, Mr. Truman asked him to be Secretary of State. A good man was needed. Marshall was a good man. He served until ill health forced him to retire again to private life.

He's 69 Years Old

He's 69 years old. And now, with the nation in a dither over its defenses, Marshall once more is asked to help the country out.

Granted that Marshall is one of the outstanding men of his time, it still is some kind of commentary on the other 150,000,000 people that one man repeatedly has to be called on to bail his country out of trouble.

DETROIT MOVES AHEAD; PHILS SHUTOUT CARDS

(By The Associated Press)
The six and a half game separating the front-running Philadelphia Phillies and the runner-up Brooklyn Dodgers in the National league pennant race loom bigger and bigger every day.

With the flag scramble in the home stretch, the pressure is definitely on the Dodgers while the Phils can afford to coast.

The Philadelphia Whiz Kids maintained that six and a half game margin by edging past the St. Louis Cardinals 1-0 last night behind the five-hit pitching of righthander Robin Roberts.

The Cards' Max Lanier and Al Brazie gave up only three hits but one was a fifth-inning homer by catcher Andy Seminick.

Brooklyn kept its pennant hopes alive by sliding past Ewell Blackwell and the Cincinnati Reds 3-1. Blackwell pitched a one-hitter but lost the game in the eighth inning when he hit a batter, committed an error and wild pitched home a run that broke a 1-1 tie.

With Big Luke Easter as the ring-leader, the smarting Cleveland Indians are moving back into the American league pennant race in the role of "spoilers."

Win On Homerun

Knocked out of contention and blasted by their bosses, the Indians are out to redeem themselves at the expense of the three remaining contenders—Boston, New York and Detroit.

They began to reap revenge last night by defeating the New York Yankees, 8-7, on a three-run homer by Easter in the ninth inning.

The defeat sent the Yankees into second place, a half game back of the Detroit Tigers who scored a 3-2 afternoon triumph over the Washington Senators.

Cleveland has one more game with the Yanks, six with the Tigers and two with the third-place Boston Red Sox. The Red Sox, still moving relentlessly forward, climbed within a game of the lead by edging the Chicago White Sox, 2-1.

Home runs in the first two innings by Joe DiMaggio, Phil Rizzuto and Yogi Berra shot the Yanks off to 6-0 lead in a rain-soaked game.

Early Wynn was the victim of the Yankee bombardment but after that the world champions were effectively checked by Dick Weik, Sad Sam Zoladak and Steve Gromek.

Homers by Larry Doby and Easter shaved the deficit to 6-4 by the fifth. It appeared the Yanks had the game in the bag when Jim Hegan grounded out to open the Cleveland ninth.

Reynolds Blows Up

Allie Reynolds, who had allowed only four hits, blew up in the ninth and walked two batters. He was hurriedly lifted for Tom Ferrick. Bob Kennedy greeted Ferrick with a run-scoring double. Doby struck out but Easter then slammed Ferrick's first pitch over the rightfield fence to break up the game.

The Tigers had rough sledding before squashing the Senators. Old Diz Trout went all the way for the Bengals and permitted eight hits while his mates collected only five off Gene Bearden and Mickey Harris.

Detroit clipped Bearden for two runs in the third on a walk and doubles by George Kell and Vic Wertz. Wertz homered for the winning run in the fifth. The Senators scored in the sixth and added their final run in the eighth on a homer by Ed Stewart.

Sox Nip Chicago

Lefty Mel Parnell turned in a neat five-hitter in recording his 16th victory and eighth straight for the Red Sox under the lights in Chicago. The Sox now have won 24 out of their last 27 games.

All of the scoring took place in the first two innings. The Sox tallied in the first on singles by Johnny Pesky, Bill Goodman and Vern Stephens' long fly. They scored the winning run in the next inning on a single by Al Zarilla, infield out, wild pitch and a single by Dom DiMaggio.

The St. Louis Browns, behind the three-hit pitching of Al Widmar, blanked the Philadelphia Athletics, 6-0.

The New York Giants' Sheldon Jones blanked the Pittsburgh Pirates, 3-0, for the 17th shutout by the Giants this year.

The Giants moved to within a half game of the third-place Boston Braves who dropped a 3-1 night game decision to Bobo Rush and the Chicago Cubs.

Interstate League

Wilmington, Del., Sept. 13 (P)—Wilmington's pennant winning Blue Rocks and the second place Hagerstown Braves open the final series of the playoffs for the Governor's cup in the Class B Interstate League tonight.

Wilmington qualified for the final round last night by defeating Harrisburg 4-2—the fourth decision in seven games for the Blue Rocks. Hagerstown, previously, had moved into the best of seven final series by beating Trenton four games to one.

Skeeter Newsome, manager of the Blue Rocks, has indicated he'll send either Jack Sanford (12-4) or Dick Smullen (11-10) against the Braves in the first game. Hagerstown's mound choice is Al Bennet.

The first two games are scheduled

Eastern League

(By The Associated Press)

The Binghamton Triplets, one game up on the Albany Senators in their semi-final, Eastern League play-off, send Hugh Radcliffe to the mound tonight to oppose Albany's Inman Chambers.

Bill Freese cooled the Senators' hopes last night when his teammates exploded with an 11-hit attack that was good for an 11-1 victory.

The league's second semi-final series opens tonight at Hartford, where the Chiefs entertain the pennant-winning Wilkes-Barre Indians.

The game, originally scheduled for Wilkes-Barre, was transferred because the Pennsylvania city is observing a week of mourning for national guardsmen killed in a train wreck in Ohio Monday.

The Chiefs also will be hosts for the second game tomorrow night. The clubs have not decided where the rest of the best-of-seven series will be played, but there is a possibility all will take place in Hartford.

Two Deadlock For Tournament Honors

Mrs. S. H. Reed and Mrs. Riley Heckert turned in net scores of 42 to tie for top honors in the nine-hole blind bogey golf tournament held Tuesday in connection with Ladies' Day at the Gettysburg Country club. Mrs. J. Donald Swope was hostess for the day.

A luncheon will be held next Tuesday with Mrs. Charles H. Smith as hostess.

for the Wilmington park ball, the next three at Hagerstown and the final two, if necessary, on the Blue Rocks' home ground.

CANNERS SQUAD AT WAYNESBORO FRIDAY NIGHT

Biglerville's gridiron specialists emerged from their tussle with Littlestown last Friday evening without sustaining any injuries and are now getting set to tackle Waynesboro in a non-conference game to be played Friday evening at Waynesboro.

At the helm now is Coach Russ Kane. Coach Kane was formerly assistant coach on a coaching staff headed by Gene Haas. Gene has been forced to hang up his coaching togs for an officer's uniform in the Army's 28th Division now going into training at Camp Atterbury, Ind.

Assisting Coach Kane are Charles Goodling and Hobart Benchoff. Taking over the chores as Junior high helmsman are Clair Settle and Bruce Sheats.

Expected to see their share of action are Jacobs, Wertz and Starry in the line and Orner and Coulson in the backfield.

Biglerville's final opponent last year was Waynesboro. The Canners won the game 21 to 12. This year the Waynesboro team is figured to be heavier than it was last year. Biglerville will match this with a fairly heavy line and a fast backfield.

Sports Roundup

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.

New York, Sept. 13 (P)—Branch Rickey tabs the Phillies' Eddie Sawyer as the first "teaching manager" to come into major leagues in years.

But that doesn't mean Eddie could win a pennant with Schoolboy Rowe. . . . New (to us) position in football coaching is held by Georgia's Quinton Lumpkin, who is listed as "freshman coach and monitor of football players' dormitory."

... Hank Iba, Oklahoma A. and M. athletic director and basketball coach, is up and around again after spending most of his summer vacation in bed, due to a back injury. . . . After Bert Bell finished orating about all the "great" football teams in the National league this season, one slightly cynical N. Y. scribe murmured: "It's gonna be a dead heat."

OUCH

Headline: "Deddens Signed by Reds." . . . That's nothing new. They've had dead 'uns in Cincinnati for years.

SHORTS AND SHELLS

Wid Matthews, the Cubs scout, has tacked a "can't miss" sign on Bob Schultz, the Nashville lefty who moves to Chicago next season. . . . Tug Wilson's rate letter to Baseball Commissioner Chandler about the Yankees' signing of Bill Skowron drew a chuckle from the college coaches, who had been thinking and saying the same thing for several years. . . . Tug came into the negotiations with the idea that the NCAA could swing some weight in dealing with professional baseball. . . . The Football Giants have been using Emilen Tunnell as a "T" quarterback in practice and the defense specialist has had the coaches poyeey a couple of times by tossing long, accurate passes when he apparently had been trapped. . . . Harry Stuldreher, Jr., is a sophomore candidate for the Michigan football team. . . . Maybe he read those "Goodbye Harry" signs at Madison, Wis., too.

FREE THROWS

Houston Betty, Missouri's line coach who played a pretty rugged brand of football a dozen or so years ago, has one pet peeve. That is the failure of the Missouri quarterbacks to go downfield and knock some one down after they get rid of the ball. . . . When practice was just starting this fall, Betty intimated that he had one bit of advice to offer to the current crop of quarterbacks. . . . "What's that, Hoot?" asked another coach. . . . In dead earnest, Betty replied: "I'd like to tell them to feel free to block out there."

Fights Last Night

Los Angeles—Enrique Bolanos, 137½, Los Angeles, outpointed Terry Young, 140, New York (10).

Yesterday's Stars

(By The Associated Press)
Pitching: Robin Roberts, Phils—Blanked the St. Louis Cardinals, 1-0, on five hits.

Batting: Luke Easter, Indians—With two out in ninth inning, hit three-run homer to give Cleveland an 8 to 7 victory over the Yankees.

Kump Takes Game In Playoff Series

The Lebanon Chix, champions of the North Atlantic Baseball league, gained the final playoffs by defeating Carbondale 5-2 Tuesday evening to win their semi-final series 4-3. The Chix will not meet Stroudsburg in the final series.

Ronnie Kump, Cashtown, former Gettysburg high star, hurled Lebanon to a 10-2 victory last Saturday night over Carbondale. Kump gave up but four hits, fanned six batters and walked five. He secured one hit in three official times at bat and batted in a run.

ENGINEER GIVES STORY OF WRECK WHERE 33 DIED

Pittsburgh, Sept. 13 (AP)—A spare, graying Pennsylvania railroad engineer testified today he was trying to make up time when his crack passenger train rammed the rear of a troop train, killing 33 National Guardsmen.

William Eller, 65-year-old engineer of the Pennsylvania's "Spirit of St. Louis," testified in near whispers at the opening of an investigation into the fatal Ohio crash by the Interstate Commerce Commission, the Ohio Public Utility Commission and the army.

Eller testified he was 28 minutes late leaving Pittsburgh and had lost another minute en route. He said visibility at the time of the wreck in the pre-dawn hours Monday was restricted because of fog. The crash occurred near Coshocton, Ohio.

Didn't Cut Speed Enough

The veteran engineer, described by the fireman as "one of the most alert and capable men I know," told how he reduced speed but "not enough" at the first approach block before the stalled troop train.

Eller guessed his speed at the time at 50 miles per hour. ICC regulations require that speed be reduced to 30 miles an hour at an approach block so the train can come to a complete stop at the next stop and proceed again.

The engineer testified he did not apply his service brake until he reached the stop and proceed signal near the crash scene. He said he did not apply his emergency until he passed the signal.

At about the time he passed the "stop and proceed" signal, Eller admitted he saw the stalled troop train. He said: "It was very close."

Signals Were Working

In reply to an ICC question as to whether both wayside and cab signals were working properly, Eller murmured: "Yes."

Eller said he saw the flares and signals set out at the rear of the troop train by a flagman aboard the stalled train. He said he applied the emergency brake immediately.

Eller's fireman, E. J. Kearns, testified Eller was "one of the most alert, capable men in railroad service."

Kearns said he saw the flagman of the stalled troop train standing just east of the automatic block signal. He testified the rear of the stalled train was about 50 car lengths beyond the flagman.

MISSION GROUP 70 YEARS OLD

The Women's Missionary society of Christ Lutheran church commemorated the founding of the society 70 years ago with a special service held in the Sunday school room on Monday evening, Mrs. W. C. Waltemyer led the devotional period which consisted of a brief history of the society as told by the original records of the group. Mrs. Russell Pink sang two solos emphasizing the light of the world. An effective candle light and floral setting was used.

Mrs. Herbert Schmidt, program chairman, introduced Dr. J. M. Myers, who used as his topic "Stewardship" in the Biblical and historical sense. Dr. Myers stressed that stewardship to be approved of God must be based on the conviction that "the earth is the Lord's and the fullness thereof. The world and they that dwell therein." True stewardship, he said, involves the use of time to the glory of God, the use of talents to the glory of God, and from these two will naturally follow the use of money to the glory of God. He concluded his address with a challenge to the women of the Missionary society to continue their good work as stewards of God until salvation shall come unto the uttermost parts of the world.

A business meeting followed with Mrs. E. A. Crouse presiding.

SENATE OKAYS ANTI-RED BILL

Washington, Sept. 13 (AP)—A bill aimed at stifling Communist activities all along the home front headed today for a Senate-House conference as the first step toward a probable veto by President Truman.

It received an overwhelming 70 to 7 vote of approval in the Senate late yesterday after a day of hectic and often confused maneuvering that eventually welded two opposing measures into one.

Briefly the bill provides for:

1. The internment of dangerous Reds in time of war, invasion or insurrection.
2. Registration of Communist and Communist front organizations.
3. Barring Reds from government jobs and obtaining passports.
4. New legal curbs on sabotage and espionage.
5. New weapons to be used to exclude and deport aliens considered to be subversive.
6. Outlawing conspiracies to set up a "totalitarian dictatorship" in the United States.

Senator Kilgore (D-W. Va.) had introduced the internment plan as a substitute for the sweeping catch-all bill sponsored by Chairman McCarran (D-Nev.) of the Senate Judiciary committee. As a substitute it was defeated 50 to 23.

cern principally owned by them, it was stated.

Under the schedule set up the Manns will get about $40,000 return on the money they lent personally and through their company.

To Get At Least $500

Under the agreement between the creditors and Adams Apple, which led to dismissal of the bankruptcy petition, all creditors with claims of $500 or less will be paid in full. Claims above $500 will receive at least 50 per cent, but no less than $500, including a $72,000 claim of Continental Can corporation.

About 300 creditors were involved in the proceedings, a great number of them county farmers whose claims were in the $500 or less classification.

Judge Folmer noted that the petition was dismissed only upon the agreement of all parties concerned. A sworn certificate was presented by Attorney Maimed that all creditors had been notified at least 10 days before the hearing was held. Non-attendance of creditors at the hearing was considered by the court as evidence of approval of the plan presented by the Adams Apple attorneys.

JOINTURE TOLD ABOUT CHANGES IN CURRICULUM

Supervising Principal Paul E. King explained several changes in the school curriculum to the executive board of the Littlestown jointure at the monthly meeting in his office Tuesday evening. "General agriculture and home nursing have been added to the tenth grade requirements; physics no longer alternates with chemistry but is now offered in the eleventh grade," he said. "Senior girls' shop and senior boys' home economics have been scheduled for two periods a week each and are mandatory on the part of all twelfth graders.

"Plans are being made for the enlargement of the guidance program with each home room teacher making a contribution to the integral part of the whole program. School banking has been extended to include the tenth grade. Mr. Bream has been assigned as visual aid director and the program of visual aid instructions which will cover all grades and all schools, rural and local, has been worked out."

Mr. King also stated that one 16MM sound projector, one 35MM slide projector, and one opaque slide machine, together with three screens, have been received from the federal government.

Explains Fees

In explaining the activities fee in the high school, King said, "It has been set at $3.50 and includes the usual activities as outlined in other years, excepting that instead of the school picnic, funds from this fee will provide a dance and party for the senior high group and a part of the junior high group."

The new oil burner has been completely installed and the renovations under the auditorium are practically completed, King said.

"The cafeteria had its formal opening September 8 and its direction has been allocated to several teachers," King said. Mrs. Walker has been assigned the responsibility of taking care of the dining room; Mr. Schellhase will serve as the accountant and take care of all receipts and inventories; Mrs. Sheely, in connection with the girls of the home economics department, will be responsible for the menu, and Mrs. Unger, the cafeteria cook, will place all orders for food with the same to be checked through the office.

Enrollment Is 978
All wages and bills incidental to the operation of the cafeteria will be paid through and by the school treasurer. A new stockroom has been made available where all incoming foods will be stored and a perpetual inventory will be kept of all foods on hand.

King reported revised figures on the enrollment of the jointure, the total being 978 instead of 971 as previously reported. The revised enrollment by schools is: Germany township: Oak Grove, 31 and Mt. Pleasant, 24; Littlestown borough: First grade, 64; second, 61; third, 45; fourth, 31; fifth, 31; sixth, 81; seventh, 92; eighth, 85; ninth, 81; tenth, 73; eleventh, 69; twelfth, 42; Mt. Joy: Hoffman school, Room 1, 19; room 2, 30; room 3, 32; Union township: Center, 26; Pleasant Hill, 25; Pine Grove, 32. The total in grades one to six is 536, and grades seven through 12 is 442. Some difficulties were encountered in transportation routes as set up by the committee. A few changes were made and the schools are operating smoothly, he said.

School opened on September 7 with a half day of school as Thursday afternoon was Littlestown's day at the South Mountain Fair, when the high school band presented a concert at the fair.

The board was also told that the entire group of teachers of the Jointure met on the evening of September 5 at which time the grade teachers planned to meet the first Tuesday of each month during the year and the high school teachers on the second Tuesday of each month.

Treasurer's Report

Treasurer John Schwartz presented the following report for August: Receipts during August, $1,159.22; expenditures: General control, $20.25; Instruction, $8,247.11; auxiliary agencies, $1,310.70; coordinate activities, $156.66; operation of plants, $1,058.43; maintenance of plants, $306.17; fixed charges, $276.94; and capital outlay, $4,221.54; total expenditures for August, $15,597.80.

School Nurse Brenda Walker reported that the mobile chest X-ray unit under the auspices of the Adams county Tuberculosis society visited the high school on Tuesday morning, when 232 persons were X-rayed. This included all ninth graders, all students participating in high school athletics, cafeteria workers, teachers and other school personnel and also those persons recommended last year for an X-ray this year.

Monument Dedicated: On Wednesday afternoon New York state wrote another chapter in the long and colorful history of memorializations of Empire State commanders and soldiers who participated in the Battle of Gettysburg, by unveiling and dedicating a monument on Hancock avenue in the presence of a distinguished gathering of survivors of the Civil War and prominent men and women of New York state.

The exercises were in commemoration of the 41 corps, division and brigade commanders of New York regiments in the battle here. . . . Grouped on chairs in the forepart of the crowd were more than 125 veterans of the Civil War, more than half of them survivors of Gettysburg, most of them more than four score years. And behind them was a distinguished company of New York state senators and assemblymen brought to Gettysburg as guests of the New York State Monuments' commission.

Charles A. Shaw, chairman of the commission, was master of ceremonies. He was assisted by Charles S. Barker, vice chairman of the

Today's Talk

By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS

TONGUE OR HEAD

Undoubtedly the head that we own is our greatest possession. Put to its best and highest use, it will guide us through life both successfully and happily. But there is a small organ, under command of this head, that calls for great control. I refer to this tongue of ours. How often it gets out of control, says unkind and bitter things that later we always deeply regret.

On the other hand, how useful this tongue of ours can be! It can say helpful and encouraging words that take rootage in other minds, often giving such ones a new lease upon life. The late Walt Mason was always saying kind things about people, and one day he wrote a poem about a man who had a "misfit face." He was so homesy that when people looked upon him they stopped and yelled—but when they learned that no unkind word or ungenerous expression ever came from that face, they suddenly exclaimed, in words of the poet, that "he was a handsome man!"

Some people's tongues are nothing more than trouble makers. They have the gossipy tongue, the mean and bitter tongue, with poison on its tip. Such people can never be happy, for they drive their possible friends from them, and plant many a hurt in a heart that never should have been there. We can all think what we please, but if we have a wise head, we will put a damper upon the things that our tongue may say that might result in tragic damage to the life of someone else.

It is wholesome to hold our tongue, as the saying goes, until we have something useful and helpful to say. False rumors travel the tongue route, and it isn't a safe one. Nothing so disgraces the head as to have its tongue turned loose in idle and thoughtless words. If we can't say something uplifting and inspiring, then we ought to say nothing, allowing the head to retain its noble and natural dignity!

The head goes into an ecstasy of joy and satisfaction when such expressions as these leave the tongue: "She was so pleasant. He always understood. Love gave a glow to his face like that of a fading sunset. Thank you, and if you please, were words always at the tip of his tongue!"

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "Expression."

Just Folks

GROWN UP

"When you're grown up," I chanced to say,

His question floored me flat.

"Does 'grown up' mean I mustn't play?"

How would you answer that?

What say to an inquiring lad,

"Does 'grown-up' mean I must be sad?"

"Does 'grown-up' mean that I can do

Exactly as I please,

And when I am as old as you

Sit down and take my ease?"

"No! No!" I said, "when time has flown

I'm sure you will have wiser grown.

"Not all the time will you be sad,

Nor all the time be gay.

You'll understand both good and bad

More surely, I would say,

And you will scarcely feel the touch

Of what upsets you now so much.

"That temper you so quickly lose,

You will have learned to keep.

There will be times when you will choose

To laugh when now you weep.

You will be braver, fairer, too,

When 'grown-up' can be said of you."

State Senator William F. Byrne, of Albany, was introduced as the personal representative of Governor A. E. Smith, of New York state. . . . United States Wadsworth spoke amid much applause.

Edwin Markham, one of the greatest of contemporary poets, was present at the exercises, reading an original composition, "Lincoln, The Man of the People."

Before reading his poem, Mr. Markham said:

"But above them all, we behold the majestic figure of Abraham Lincoln, for it was here that he came to deliver the famous Gettysburg address, a brief funeral oration which, in its pathos and power, stands supreme among the great orations. So, in this hour of commemoration, it seems appropriate that I should read to you my tribute in verse to our immortal martyr, the man, who once stood upon this historic ground, the man dear to all whose hearts beat in rhythm with the music of the Republic."

Out Of The Past

From the Files of the
Star and Sentinel and
The Gettysburg Times

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO
Bender-Fisher Nuptials Read: In a beautiful floral setting, at the home of the bride's parents, Miss Ruth B. Bender, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry B. Bender, Baltimore street, and Luther I. Fisher, son of Mr. and Mrs. Irvin J. Fisher, Waynesboro, were married at 6:30 o'clock, Saturday evening.

The Rev. Dr. A. E. Wagner performed the nuptial rites in the presence of the immediate families and close friends.

Just before the ceremony was performed, before a flower-banked fireplace in the Bender home, Harold P. Belknap sang "O Promise Me" and "Because." He was accompanied on the piano by Mrs. Milton Bender.

Miss Bender was given in marriage by her father and was attended by her sister, Miss Louise Bender, as maid of honor. H. P. Belknap was the bridegroom's attendant.

Mr. Fisher is now a student at Jefferson hospital.

County Couple Is Weded Saturday: Miss Esther J. Newman, Mt. Joy township, and Paul Herbert Bowers, Littlestown, were married at the Gettysburg United Brethren church Saturday morning. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. F. L. Stine.

The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Newman. The bridegroom, a son of Mr. and Mrs. George W. Bowers, is employed by the Littlestown Steam bakery.

Former Gettysburg Babe Awarded Prize: Edwin L. Shoop, 11-month-old son of Edwin L. Shoop, formerly of Gettysburg, now living at Shepherdstown, W. Va., won the first prize as the prettiest baby at the recent Morgan's Grove fair, West Virginia. A silver cup was the prize won by the baby who was born at the Warner hospital here.

Bonneauville Chosen Convention City for 1926: All of last year's officers were reelected and Bonneauville was chosen as the convention town for 1926 at the fourth annual convocation of the Adams County Firemen's association at Biglerville Monday morning. President Aumen presided at the business meeting.

Rev. Dr. Jacob A. Clutz Dies In Stockholm, Sweden, Monday Night: The Rev. Dr. Jacob A. Clutz, professor of practical theology at the Lutheran Theological seminary here died at Stockholm, Sweden, Monday night. He was in his seventy-eighth year.

Doctor Clutz's death is believed to have been the direct result of the injury he received on August 24 in the Swedish capital in company with another delegate to the universal Christian Conference on Life and Work, which was held from August 19 to 30. Doctor Clutz was about to cross a street, when he was struck and felled by the rear end of a delivery truck.

Monument Dedicated: On Wednesday afternoon New York state wrote another chapter in the long and colorful history of memorializations of Empire State commanders and soldiers who participated in the Battle of Gettysburg, by unveiling and dedicating a monument on Hancock avenue in the presence of a distinguished gathering of survivors of the Civil War and prominent men and women of New York state.

The exercises were in commemoration of the 41 corps, division and brigade commanders of New York regiments in the battle here. . . . Grouped on chairs in the forefront of the crowd were more than 125 veterans of the Civil War, more than half of them survivors of Gettysburg, most of them more than four score years. And behind them was a distinguished company of New York state senators and assemblymen brought to Gettysburg as guests of the New York State Monuments commission.

Charles A. Shaw, chairman of the commission, was master of ceremonies. He was assisted by Charles S. Barker, vice chairman of the

Today's Talk

By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS

TONGUE OR HEAD
Undoubtedly the head that we own is our greatest possession. Put to its best and highest use, it will guide us through life both successfully and happily. But there is a small organ, under command of this head, that calls for great control. I refer to this tongue of ours. How often it gets out of control, says unkind and bitter things that later we always deeply regret.

On the other hand, how useful this tongue of ours can be! It can say helpful and encouraging words that take rootage in other minds, often giving such ones a new lease upon life. The late Walt Mason was always saying kind things about people, and one day he wrote a poem about a man who had a "muffin face." He was so homely that when people looked upon him they stopped and yelled—but when they learned that no unkind word or ungenerous expression ever came from that face, they suddenly exclaimed, in words of the poet, that "he was a handsome man!"

Some people's tongues are nothing more than trouble makers. They have the gossip tongue, the mean and bitter tongue, with poison on its tip. Such people can never be happy, for they drive their possible friends from them, and plant many a hurt in a heart that never should have been there. We can all think what we please, but if we have a wise head, we will put a damper upon the things that our tongue may say that might result in tragic damage to the life of someone else.

It is wholesome to hold our tongue, as the saying goes, until we have something useful and helpful to say. False rumors travel the tongue route, and it isn't a safe one. Nothing so disgraces the head as to have its tongue turned loose in idle and thoughtless words. If we can't say something uplifting and inspiring, then we ought to say nothing, allowing the head to retain its noble and natural dignity!

The head goes into an ecstasy of joy and satisfaction when such expressions as these leave the tongue: "She was so pleasant. He always understood. Love gave a glow to his face like that of a fading sunset. Thank you, and if you please, were words always at the tip of his tongue!"

Just Folks

GROWN UP
"When you're grown up," I chanced to say.
His question floored me flat.
"Does 'grown up' mean I mustn't play?"
How would you answer that?
What say to an inquiring lad,
"Does 'grown-up' mean I must be sad?"

"Does 'grown-up' mean that I can do
Exactly as I please,
And when I am as old as you
Sit down and take my ease?"
"No! No!" I said, "when time has flown
I'm sure you will have wiser grown."

"Not all the time will you be sad,
Nor all the time be gay.
You'll understand both good and bad
More surely, I would say,
And you will scarcely feel the touch
Of what upsets you now so much."

"That temper you so quickly lose,
You will have learned to keep.
There will be times when you will choose
To laugh when now you weep.
You will be braver, fairer, too,
When 'grown-up' can be said of you."

State Senator William F. Byrne, of Albany, was introduced as the personal representative of Governor A. E. Smith, of New York state. . . . United States Wadsworth spoke amid much applause.
Edwin Markham, one of the greatest of contemporary poets, was present at the exercises, reading an original composition, "Lincoln, The Man of the People."
Before reading his poem, Mr. Markham said:

"But above them all, we behold the majestic figure of Abraham Lincoln, for it was here that he came to deliver the famous Gettysburg address, a brief funeral oration which, in its pathos and power, stands supreme among the great orations. So, in this hour of commemoration, it seems appropriate that I should read to you my tribute in verse to our immortal martyr, the man, who once stood upon this historic ground, the man dear to all whose hearts beat in rhythm with the music of the Republic."

Fisher, son of Mr. and Mrs. Irvin J. Fisher, Waynesboro, were married at 6:30 o'clock, Saturday evening.

The Rev. Dr. A. E. Wagner performed the nuptial rites in the presence of the immediate families and close friends.

Just before the ceremony was performed, before a flower-banked fireplace in the Bender home, Harold P. Belknap sang "O Promise Me" and "Because." He was accompanied on the piano by Mrs. Milton Bender.

Miss Bender was given in marriage by her father and was attended by her sister, Miss Louise Bender, as maid of honor. H. P. Belknap was the bridegroom's attendant.

Mr. Fisher is now a student at Jefferson hospital.

Doctor Clutz's death is believed to have been the direct result of the injury he received on August 24 in the Swedish capital. In company with another delegate to the universal Christian Conference on Life and Work, which was held from August 19 to 30, Doctor Clutz was about to cross a street, when he was struck and felled by the rear end of a delivery truck.

Monument Dedicated: On Wednesday afternoon New York state wrote another chapter in the long and colorful history of memorializations of Empire State commanders and soldiers who participated in the Battle of Gettysburg, by unveiling and dedicating a monument on Hancock avenue in the presence of a distinguished gathering of survivors of the Civil War and prominent men and women of New York state.

The exercises were in commemoration of the 41 corps division and brigade commanders of New York regiments in the battle here. . . . Grouped on chairs in the forefront of the crowd were more than 125 veterans of the Civil War, more than half of them survivors of Gettysburg, most of them more than four score years. And behind them was a distinguished company of New York state senators and assemblymen brought to Gettysburg as guests of the New York State Monuments' commission.

Charles A. Shaw, chairman of the commission, was master of ceremonies. He was assisted by Charles S. Barker, vice chairman of the

Today's Talk

By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS

TONGUE OR HEAD
Undoubtedly the head that we own is our greatest possession. Put to its best and highest use, it will guide us through life both successfully and happily. But there is a small organ, under command of this head, that calls for great control. I refer to this tongue of ours. How often it gets out of control, says unkind and bitter things that later we always deeply regret.

On the other hand, how useful this tongue of ours can be! It can say helpful and encouraging words that take rootage in other minds, often giving such ones a new lease upon life. The late Walt Mason was always saying kind things about people, and one day he wrote a poem about a man who had a "misfit face." He was so homely that when people looked upon him they stopped and yelled—but when they learned that no unkind word or ungenerous expression ever came from that face, they suddenly exclaimed, in words of the poet, that "he was a handsome man!"

Some people's tongues are nothing more than trouble makers. They have the gossipy tongue, the mean and bitter tongue, with poison on its tip. Such people can never be happy, for they drive their possible friends from them, and plant many a hurt in a heart that never should have been there. We can all think what we please, but if we have a wise head, we will put a damper upon the things that our tongue may say that might result in tragic damage to the life of someone else.

It is wholesome to hold our tongue, as the saying goes, until we have something useful and helpful to say. False rumors travel the tongue route, and it isn't a safe one. Nothing so disgraces the head as to have its tongue turned loose in idle and thoughtless words. If we can't say something uplifting and inspiring, then we ought to say nothing, allowing the head to retain its noble and natural dignity!

The head goes into an ecstasy of joy and satisfaction when such expressions as these leave the tongue: She was so pleasant. He always understood. Love gave a glow to his face like that of a fading sunset. Thank you, and if you please, were words always at the tip of his tongue!

Just Folks

GROWN UP
"When you're grown up," I chanced to say,

His question floored me flat.

"Does 'grown up' mean I mustn't play?"

How would you answer that?

What say to an inquiring lad,

"Does 'grown-up' mean I must be sad?"

"Does 'grown-up' mean that I can do

Exactly as I please,

And when I am as old as you

Sit down and take my ease?"

"No! No!" I said, "when time has flown

I'm sure you will have wiser grown.

"Not all the time will you be sad,

Nor all the time be gay.

You'll understand both good and bad

More surely, I would say,

And you will scarcely feel the touch

Of what upsets you now so much.

"That temper you so quickly lose.

You will have learned to keep.

There will be times when you will choose

To laugh when now you weep.

You will be braver, fairer, too,

When 'grown-up' can be said of you."

Out Of The Past

From the Files of the
Star and Sentinel and
The Gettysburg Times

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO
Bender-Fisher Nuptials Read: In a beautiful floral setting, at the home of the bride's parents, Miss Ruth B. Bender, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry B. Bender, Baltimore street, and Luther I. Fisher, son of Mr. and Mrs. Irvin J. Fisher, Waynesboro, were married at 8:30 o'clock, Saturday evening.

The Rev. Dr. A. E. Wagner performed the nuptial rites in the presence of the immediate families and close friends.

Just before the ceremony was performed, before a flower-banked fireplace in the Bender home, Harold P. Belknap sang "O Promise Me" and "Because." He was accompanied on the piano by Mrs. Milton Bender.

Miss Bender was given in marriage by her father and was attended by her sister, Miss Louise Bender, as maid of honor. H. P. Belknap was the bridegroom's attendant.

Mr. Fisher is now a student at Jefferson hospital.

County Couple Is Weded Saturday: Miss Esther J. Newman, Mt. Joy township, and Paul Herbert Bowers, Littlestown, were married at the Gettysburg United Brethren church Saturday morning. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. F. L. Stine.

The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Newman. The bridegroom, a son of Mr. and Mrs. George W. Bowers, is employed by the Littlestown Steam bakery.

Former Gettysburg Babe Awarded Prize: Edwin L. Shoop, 11-month-old son of Edwin L. Shoop, formerly of Gettysburg, now living at Shepherdstown, W. Va., won the first prize as the prettiest baby at the recent Morgan's Grove fair, West Virginia. A silver cup was the prize won by the baby who was born at the Warner hospital here.

Bonneauville Chosen Convention City for 1956: All of last year's officers were reelected and Bonneauville was chosen as the convention town for 1956 at the fourth annual convocation of the Adams County Firemen's association at Biglerville Monday morning. President Aumen presided at the business meeting.

Rev. Dr. Jacob A. Clutz Dies In Stockholm, Sweden, Monday Night: The Rev. Dr. Jacob A. Clutz, professor of practical theology at the Lutheran Theological seminary here, died at Stockholm, Sweden, Monday night. He was in his seventy-eighth year.

Doctor Clutz's death is believed to have been the direct result of the injury he received on August 24 in the Swedish capital. In company with another delegate to the universal Christian Conference on Life and Work, which was held from August 19 to 30, Doctor Clutz was about to cross a street, when he was struck and killed by the rear end of a delivery truck.

Monument Dedicated: On Wednesday afternoon New York state wide another chapter in the long and colorful history of memorializations of Empire State commanders and soldiers who participated in the Battle of Gettysburg, by unveiling and dedicating a monument on Hancock avenue in the presence of a distinguished gathering of survivors of the Civil War and prominent men and women of New York state.

The exercises were in commemoration of the 41 corps, division and brigade commanders of New York regiments in the battle here.

Grouped on chairs in the forepart of the crowd were more than 125 veterans of the Civil War, more than half of them survivors of Gettysburg, most of them more than four score years. And behind them was a distinguished company of New York state senators and assemblymen brought to Gettysburg as guests of the New York State Monuments' commission.

Charles A. Shaw, chairman of the commission, was master of ceremonies. He was assisted by Charles S. Barker, vice chairman of the

Today's Talk

By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS

TONGUE OR HEAD
Undoubtedly the head that we own is our greatest possession. Put to its best and highest use, it will guide us through life both successfully and happily. But there is a small organ, under command of this head, that calls for great control. I refer to this tongue of ours. How often it gets out of control, says untold and bitter things that later we always deeply regret.

On the other hand, how useful this tongue of ours can be! It can say helpful and encouraging words that take root in other minds, often giving such ones a new lease upon life. The late Walt Mason was always saying kind things about people, and one day he wrote a poem about a man who had a "misfit face." He was so homely that when people looked upon him they stopped and yelled—but when they learned that no unkind word or ungenerous expression ever came from that face, they suddenly exclaimed, in words of the poet, that "he was a handsome man!"

Some people's tongues are nothing more than trouble makers. They have the gossipy tongue, the mean and bitter tongue, with poison on its tip. Such people can never be happy, for they drive their possible friends from them, and plant many a hurt in a heart that never should have been there. We can all think what we please, but if we have a wise head, we will put a damper upon the things that our tongue may say that might result in tragic damage to the life of someone else.

It is wholesome to hold our tongue, as the saying goes, until we have something useful and helpful to say. False rumors travel the tongue route, and it isn't a safe one. Nothing so disgraces the head as to have its tongue turned loose in idle and thoughtless words. If we can't say something uplifting and inspiring, then we ought to say nothing, allowing the head to retain its noble and natural dignity!

The head goes into an ecstasy of joy and satisfaction when such expressions as these leave the tongue: "She was so pleasant. He always understood. Love gave a glow to his face like that of a fading sunset. Thank you, and if you please, were words always at the tip of his tongue!"

Just Folks

GROWN UP
"When you're grown up," I chanced to say,

His question floored me flat.
"Does 'grown up' mean I mustn't play?"

How would you answer that?
What say to an inquiring lad,
"Does 'grown-up' mean I must be sad?"

"Does 'grown-up' mean that I can do
Exactly as I please,
And when I am as old as you
Sit down and take my ease?"

"No! No!" I said, "when time has flown
I'm sure you will have wiser grown.
"Not all the time will you be sad,
Nor all the time be gay.
You'll understand both good and bad
More surely, I would say,
And you will scarcely feel the touch
Of what upsets you now so much.

"That temper you so quickly lose,
You will have learned to keep.
There will be times when you will choose
To laugh when now you weep.
You will be braver, fiercer, too,
When 'grown-up' can be said of you."

State Senator William F. Byrne, of Albany, was introduced as the personal representative of Governor A. E. Smith, of New York state.

United States Wadsworth spoke amid much applause.

Edwin Markham, one of the greatest of contemporary poets, was present at the exercises, reading an original composition, "Lincoln, The Man of the People."

Before reading his poem, Mr. Markham said:

"But above them all, we behold the majestic figure of Abraham Lincoln, for it was here that he came to deliver the famous Gettysburg address, a brief funeral oration which, in its pathos and power, stands supreme among the great orations. So, in this hour of commemoration, it seems appropriate that I should read to you my tribute in verse to our immortal martyr, the man, who once stood upon this historic ground, the man dear to all whose hearts beat in rhythm with the music of the Republic."

The speaker of the evening was Jack Cessna, a member of the Gettysburg high school faculty, who told of a trip to Mexico this past summer.

Mexico is similar to the United States, in that it has 28 states, three territories and a federal district like the District of Columbia, he said. The monetary system is also similar, except that coins and bills have different names, with the peso similar to the U. S. dollar. The present rate of exchange, however,

SMUTS DEATH TO BRING CHANGES IN SOUTH AFRICA

By DEWITT MACKENZIE (AP Foreign Affairs Analyst)

The death of that great world figure, Field Marshal Jan Christiaan Smuts, removed the main link which has bound a wavering Union of South Africa to the British commonwealth of nations.

Thus it should cause no surprise if the Union breaks away before long and, like Southern Ireland, sets itself up in business as a republic. This is regarded as a distinct possibility by well-informed observers. Official circles in London are said to be worried.

Smuts was leader of the United party, which he founded largely to perpetuate the commonwealth. In fact, he WAS the party. Opposed to his program has been the Nationalist party which now is in power.

Changes Expected

The leader of the Nationalists is Prime Minister Daniel F. Malan, a former clergyman, who advocates separation from the commonwealth. Dr. Malan is a rather provincial and stolid figure who has lacked the colorful leadership of the dynamic Smuts. However, there are a lot of folk in South Africa who subscribe to Malan's policies.

There also have been some in Smuts' own party, who while clinging to him through loyalty and admiration, have had leanings to some of the Nationalist party ideas, including separation. It has been the field marshal himself who has held them in line.

Now this great man, who was one of the originators of the commonwealth idea, is gone and the United party has lost its main element of cohesion. The way is open for striking developments in the Union of South Africa.

Greatest Son Gone

However, while the question of separation is paramount, this isn't the only great problem hanging over the country. There is the controversial policy of white supremacy and racial segregation maintained by the Malan government.

This racial issue is one of long standing, and its ramifications reach to far-away India. The Union of South Africa has a large population of Indians who have fallen under the segregation ban. The result has been the creation of bitterness in India and the lodging of formal complaints by the New Delhi government with the United Nations. Thus far there has been no sign of any change of heart in South Africa on this point.

And now Smuts' beloved South Africa, as she faces a critical period in her history, is deprived of the guidance of her greatest son.

Washington, Sept. 13 (AP)—Senators Martin (R) and Myers (D) of Pennsylvania were among the 70 members of the upper House that passed the McCarran Communist control bill yesterday.

But before the measure passed the Senate, the Pennsylvania Senators were split on the "concentration camp" substitute proposed by Senator Kilgore (D-W. Va.). Martin voted against Kilgore's proposal. Myers was paired for the amendment.

More Guardsmen Reach Atterbury

Camp Atterbury, Ind., Sept. 13 (AP)—The population of Camp Atterbury increased again today as more members of the 28th Division of the Pennsylvania National Guard arrived.

Four trainloads came into the camp yesterday, completing the movement of troops by train. The trucks start coming in today and all are expected by tomorrow. Actual training will not start until Monday.

Heavy rains fell most of the time as the troops left the trains yesterday, formed into companies and then piled into covered trucks for the trip to their barracks in the sprawling, soaked camp.

The Pennsylvania boys, however, didn't have to stand long in the rain. "We unloaded one train in nine minutes," said Brig. Gen. T. Linus Hoban, assistant division commander, who was on hand to direct one of the operations.

RUSSIANS CAST 45TH UN VETO

Lake Success, Sept. 13 (AP)—Security Council delegates, after witnessing Russia's 45th veto, began consultations today for the opening of the United Nations General Assembly next Tuesday.

Wary from six weeks of almost daily meetings, they voted to take the rest of the week off and meet for their last pre-assembly session next Monday. They will take up then Communist China's charges of U. S. aggression against the Island of Formosa.

Russia yesterday vetoed an American resolution to set up a commission to investigate other Red Chinese charges of American bombings of Manchuria. The Council then decisively defeated a Russian move to condemn the U. S. for the alleged attacks. Only the Soviet Union voted for its proposal.

Informed sources here speculated that delegates voted the long recess not only to do spade work in preparation for the opening of the U.N. General Assembly, to which they are also delegates, but to consult their governments on the Formosan issue.

They said such consultation was probably vital to the British, American and French representatives whose foreign ministers are trying to thrash out a Formosan policy at their meetings in New York.

8 MEN KILLED IN EXPLOSION AT POWDER PLANT

Eldred, Pa., Sept. 13 (AP)—A big dynamite blast killed eight men and shattered a large part of the plant of the National Powder company in this northwestern Pennsylvania town yesterday.

President William F. Grow of National powder was unable to estimate the property loss. He said work will continue and the ruined mixing house will be rebuilt.

The blast tore to bits some of the men working in the steel-and-frame structure. A list of the dead was withheld for five hours before being released by the coroner's office. Killed were:

Charles York, 22; Harry Nelson, 39; Carl Fitzgerald, 30; Robert Walker, 40; Gene Shepard, 24; James Silvis, 30; Earl Logue, 26; and C. A. Sherwood, 34. All lived in the vicinity of Eldred. Five or six other employees suffered minor injuries.

Heard 10 Miles Away
The explosion was heard 10 miles away and windows were shattered in a two-mile radius.

John McCord, sitting in an Eldred restaurant, said: "The windows started to rock—but they didn't break."

Employees of the Art-Line Furniture company, across the valley from the blast, saw windows in their plant knocked out by the concussion.

Said one worker: "The blast kicked up dust on the floor and whirled it around our heads. It was like one of those western dust storms."

Citizens flocked into the streets by the hundreds. All of them have learned what an explosion means—something has gone wrong at the National Powder company, two miles out of town and employing 65 of Eldred's 2,000 residents.

Crops are good, sugar imports have increased and store shelves are bulging with goods.

So why hoard?

Franklin D. Roosevelt, our late President, once said, "There is nothing to fear but fear itself."

We all think a lot of those boys over in Korea, and we're not going to do the things that Malik and the rest of those birds in the Kremlin want us to do. In short . . . we are going to buy sensibly. We are not going to hoard, and we ARE going to invest more of our money in UNITED STATES SAVINGS BONDS

Macy's, the world's largest department store, recently advertised in New York newspapers to tell consumers that talk of shortages is "dangerous nonsense."

The supply of practically every commodity in the U.S. at present is more than adequate. Panicky buying can only cut down supplies and jack up prices. Remember, panic is caused by the character pictured above. To defeat his purpose, do these two things: (1) Refrain from making unusual or unnecessary purchases and (2) Invest your money in more and more United States Saving Bonds.

Chapter 5

The Circle Bar outfit lay west of town, a wide section of triangular shape which ran back into the foothills of the Hoosier Range Sunday forenoon Logan and Griggsby rode out.

Logan was beginning to like this country. This particular region was lush and fertile, reminding him more of his native Missouri land. Throwing back his shoulders, he drew such a deep breath of the clean air that his saddle creaked.

"Smell's good, eh? But you're going to have to swap that kelly for a wide-brimmed hat if you don't want to sunburn your tonsils," Griggsby said dryly. "Where'd you learn to ride that good?"

"In Saint Louis I got special permission to train with the police cavalry for exercise. I knew a range doctor couldn't ride trolley cars to call on patients."

Smart lad. We'll get you a good horse of your own from Solomon Trent."

Logan saw a black dot spurring in low sweeps in the distance, and he shaded his eyes with his hand.

"Hello!" Griggsby went on as his sharp old eyes discerned the vulture. Look's like Trent's lost another horse."

"You mean that buzzard flying low?"

Yes. But flying buzzards just clean up the carrion. It's the two-legged buzzards prowling this range that we have to worry about. I'm figuring to talk with you considerable on that subject, son, when we have the time. We've got to doctor this range just like you're going to doctor the sick folk on it."

This was the first hint Griggsby had given of this nature, and Logan picked it up. "Meaning what?"

"I'll tell you tomorrow. Look over yonder to the right. See that tall tree in the gap? It marks the entrance into Pelham's valley, a couple of miles north of Circle Bar land. George Pelham's a queer duck—tubercular, I understand. You might be able to do him some good with the latest ideas on consumption."

"I know this is rough country," pursued Logan stubbornly, adhering to his original line of thought, but in spite of a lax sheriff you don't have to worry about bad actors when men handle them in the summary fashion. Overstreet handled that crooked card sharp, do you?"

"I reckon not," said Griggsby non-committally.

Then what? Griggsby pulled up his horse and turned in his saddle to face

Logan squarely, "Look, son, I wanted to ease this to you gradually. There are other ramifications besides individual polecats running wild on rampages. This is a big country with a big future. We hope to bring a railroad through here yet, for one thing I have to be careful how much I agitate things in the paper. Already we've given other folk ideas. Within recent months a foreign outfit has moved in—a land development company, they call themselves. But I think they foresee a boom here and are out to grab all the land they can. Not only do they want to control the right-of-way, but they mean to take over the entire range and make a single cattle empire out of it."

"If I'm right, that means range war. The various folks here will fight to keep their land. They don't want to be crowded out, cheated of their homesteads forced to accept a mere move on. And these land grabbers won't work in any other way. They'll lie, they'll cheat, they'll steal, they'll kill to gain control. You ought to know what land grabbers are."

Logan's face hardened. "I do," he said through stiff lips. "But how do you know this land development company is of that calibre?"

The editor sighed. "Bob, you don't like to remember what happened in Blue Eagle, but you're crowding me. Do you know who killed your father?"

Logan looked at him soberly. "Not for certain. It was either Charles Hobner or his field man, John Naylor. They were both there."

Exactly. It's been nine years but I'm afraid the past is catching up with us. This new outfit in Gula City is called the Hohner Land Development Company, and the local manager is a man named John Naylor. Let's ride on."

He jogged his mount into motion and trotted along the trail. Logan sat three like a stone statue for a long space, his eyes fixed on the receding back of the man who had befriended him on an ugly day nine long years before. His hands clenched the saddlehorn until they ached, and his face was troubled. Then he set spurs to his horse and thundered after the editor in a mad gallop.

Barton met them at the corral gate. Manlike, he led them into the house through the kitchen, where the appetizing aroma of cooking food engulfed them in a sensory wave

Stiff Joists Needed In Good Floor Job

Floor joists must be stiff as well as strong for good flooring construction. The distinction between these two qualities frequently is not recognized by the layman, builders say.

A 2x8-inch joist, for example, may be sufficiently strong to support an anticipated floor load with no danger of collapsing. Yet it might vibrate or bend under a sudden heavy weight or footfall, causing the whole room to shake or the floor to sag at the point of pressure.

The strength of joist varies as the square of the depth. Stiffness varies as the cube of the depth. Thus a 2x10-inch joist is nearly twice as stiff as a 2x8-inch timber, but only about one and one-half times as strong.

"James Henry Barton!" exclaimed Mollie, trapped with her hands in a mass of biscuit dough. "You know better than this!"

"Don't mind me, Miss Barton," Logan said. "Remember you caught me in my shirt-sleeves with a saw I didn't know what to do with."

She laughed prettily. "So I did, which makes us even. This is my sister Betty."

Logan turned towards the stove where a second girl was hastily closing the oven door on a pair of simmering pies. He looked and continued to stare at a bewitchingly rosy face with the loveliest blue eyes, surrounded by a glorious pile of ash-blond hair. She hurriedly wiped her hand on her apron and offered it to him and he bent over the delicately-tapered fingers in his best bow.

"You're improving," Mollie said critically. "But Betty has that effect."

"Ignore her, Dr. Logan," advised the younger sister, although blushing to the tips of her pretty ears. "She's a jealous creature."

"Don't forget I saw him first," was Mollie's mock warning as she pursed her lips to kiss Griggsby.

"Don't hold yesterday's awkwardness against me," Logan begged. "I can do much better today."

"Well, sir, prove it," Mollie challenged, holding his gaze and promptly putting out her hand and promptly

Rooms	Seven
Bedrooms	Three
Closets	Five
Cubage—House	26,800
Garage	6,300
Dimensions	42' x 25'

Wide clapboards make a most suitable and attractive exterior finish for this house, although shingles or a combination of stone and wood could be used, if you prefer. If clapboards are used horizontally on the house proper, way not, for contrast have the clapboards applied to the garage vertically.

Attached to the house, and resembling an old-fashioned carriage house, the two-car garage is a definite decorative asset to the house exterior. The house proper measures approximately 42' x 25' and the garage 20 feet. Total length is 72', and so a large lot at least 82' long, will be required. Cubage of the house is 26,800 feet of the garage 6,300 feet.

Sheltered by the roof overhang, that also protects the front terrace, the front door opens into a long hallway connecting with the lavatory, den, living room and dining room. You'll appreciate the extra large coat closet located in the left wall near the end of the hall because such a closet in an entry hall can be used for a myriad of useful storage purposes.

Convenient Lavatory
The lavatory likewise is conveniently located, both for guests coming to or leaving your home as well as for any occupants of the adjacent guestroom or den. A smaller closet, located just across the hall from the lavatory, can be used by the overnight or week-end guest, or for any storage purpose desired.

Measuring 10' x 8', the guest room or den is a pleasant room with cross ventilation provided by the one window in the front wall and the window in the left wall. If you want to use this room as a den you'll find the long unbroken back wall an excellent location for built-in book shelves.

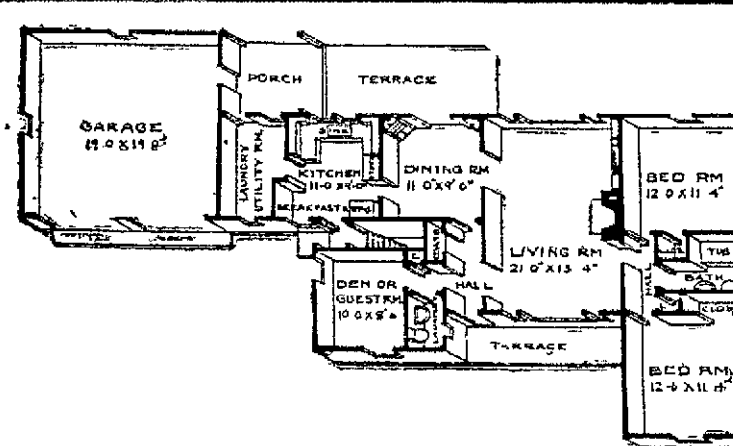

Easily the most attractive room in the house, the 21' x 13'4" living room is designed to really be lived in. Handsome picture windows flanked by narrow casement windows on both the front and back walls bring the beauty of the outdoors into this spacious room, enable you to plan your decorative scheme so as to reap full benefit from a lovely surrounding view or your own beautiful gardens.

A large fireplace, in the right wall gives the room a friendly cheerful atmosphere that suggests comradeship get-togethers of friends and neighbors. Built-in book shelves could be installed along that area of the right wall extending from the fireplace to the back wall.

There is plenty of space in the room for your television set as well as for comfortable, informal groupings of occasional chairs. Both bedrooms are located in the living room. With the bathroom placed between them, the bedrooms are connected by a short hallway. There is good cross ventilation in both rooms, for each bedroom has two windows on adjoining walls.

Measuring 12' x 11'4", the back bedroom has a large clothes closet located back to the all-modern bathroom. The front bedroom, 12'6" x 11'4" in dimensions boasts an unusually large clothes closet, also back to the bathroom. A good sized linen closet opens on the hallway.

Back in the main section of the house, the dining room is located at the left of the living room and is reached through a wide open arch. A French door in the back wall leads out on the terrace, brings the beauty of the back yard garden into the 11' x 9'6" dining room, at the same time it provides light and during the summer months additional ventilation for the room.

Well Planned Kitchen
With every inch of available space planned so as to make sundry kitchen tasks that much easier, the modern kitchen is placed to the left of the dining room. From the stove located next to the dining room door, the work counters extend in a U along the right wall the back wall and the left wall up to the door to the door to the utility room.

Located under the double windows in the back wall, the sink is just about in the center of the group of working counters. At the other end of the 11' x 9' kitchen, to the right of the door from the dining room, is the suggested location for the refrigerator because this position is but a few steps from the stove. In the left front corner you can install your breakfast nook, for this area is made more bright and cheerful by the window looking out on the side stoop.

This side entrance provides direct access to the cellar. The door to the kitchen opening off this small hallway makes a convenient entrance for delivery men, etc., as well as for the youngsters who seem to be forever trooping in and out of the house.

The utility room, located off the kitchen to the left, is well lighted by the window in the front wall and another window in the back wall and also by the doorway to the back

Louver Doors Add Charm To Home

Something of the charm of the Old South will be added to new homes through the use of louver doors.

Louver doors with their shutter-like panels afford privacy in a room, but do not shut off air. The doors are a popular choice for closets because they provide needed ventilation.

The decorative qualities of louver doors have been widely utilized by interior decorators to provide an extra touch of charm in many different types of rooms.

can go directly into the garage from the back porch and thus spare yourself that much inconvenience. Built to accommodate two cars, the garage is 19' square and contains a window in the back wall and another in the side wall.

Since the "Meadville" has a utility room on its first floor, the heating equipment is the only "must" in installation for the basement, this should be placed under the living room. The rest of the cellar area can be put to use as you see fit.

Plans Available
Complete plans and specifications for the "Meadville," and other homes in this series, are available at moderate cost. Convenient Lavatory
The lavatory likewise is conveniently located, both for guests coming to or leaving your home as well as for any occupants of the adjacent guestroom or den. A smaller closet, located just across the hall from the lavatory, can be used by the overnight or week-end guest, or for any storage purpose desired.

Measuring 10' x 8' 6", the guest room or den is a pleasant room with cross ventilation provided by the one window in the front wall and the window in the left wall. If you want to use this room as a den you'll find the long unbroken back wall an excellent location for built-in book shelves.

Easily the most attractive room in the house, the 21' x 13' 4" living room is designed to really be lived in. Handsome picture windows flanked by narrow casement windows on both the front and back walls bring the beauty of the outdoors into this spacious room; enable you to plan your decorative scheme so as to reap full benefit from a lovely surrounding view or your own beautiful gardens.

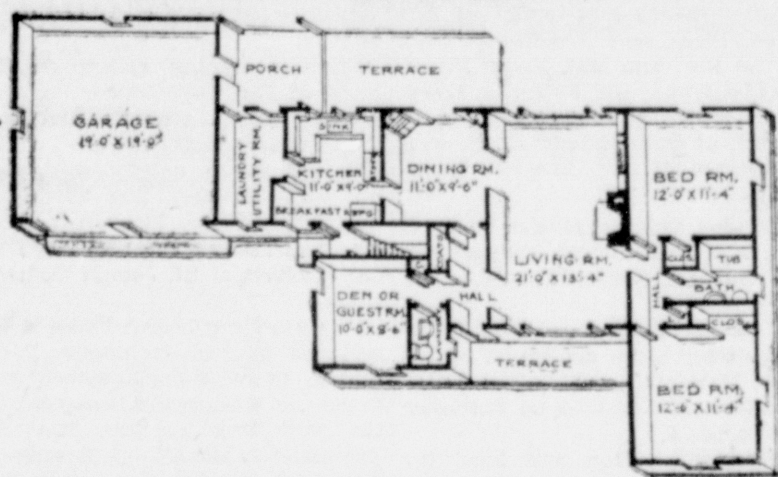

A large fireplace, in the right wall, gives the room a friendly cheerful atmosphere that suggests comrades get-togethers of friends and neighbors. Built-in book shelves could be installed along that area of the right wall extending from the fireplace to the back wall.

There is plenty of space in the room for your television set as well as for comfortable, informal groupings of occasional chairs.

Both bedrooms are located in the living room. With the bathroom placed between them, the bedrooms are connected by a short hallway. There is good cross ventilation in both rooms, for each bedroom has two windows on adjoining walls.

Measuring 12' x 11' 4", the back bedroom has a large clothes closet located back to the all-modern bathroom. The front bedroom, 12' 6" x 11' 4" in dimensions, boasts an unusually large clothes closet, also back to the bathroom. A good sized linen closet opens on the hallway.

Back in the main section of the house, the dining room is located at the left of the living room and is reached through a wide, open arch. A French door in the back wall leads out on the terrace, brings the beauty of the back yard garden into the 11' x 9' 6" dining room; at the same time it provides light, and during the summer months additional ventilation, for the room.

Well Planned Kitchen
With every inch of available space planned so as to make sundry kitchen tasks that much easier, the modern kitchen is placed to the left of the dining room. From the stove, located next to the dining room door, the work counters extend in a U along the right wall, the back wall and the left wall up to the door to the door to the utility room.

Located under the double windows in the back wall, the sink is just about in the center of the group of working counters. At the other end of the 11' x 9' kitchen, to the right of the door from the dining room, is the suggested location for the refrigerator because this position is but a few steps from the stove. In the left front corner you can install your breakfast nook, for this area is made more bright and cheerful by the window looking out on the side stoop.

This side entrance provides direct access to the cellar. The door to the kitchen opening off this small hallway makes a convenient entrance for delivery men, etc., as well as for the youngsters who seem to be forever trooping in and out of the house.

The utility room, located off the kitchen to the left, is well lighted by the window in the front wall, another window in the back wall and also by the doorway to the back

Louver Doors Add Charm To Home

Something of the charm of the Old South will be added to new homes through the use of louver doors.

Louver doors with their shutter-like panels afford privacy in a room, but do not shut off air. The doors are a popular choice for closets because they provide needed ventilation.

The decorative qualities of louver doors have been widely utilized by interior decorators to provide an extra touch of charm in many different types of rooms.

can go directly into the garage from the back porch and thus spare yourself that much inconvenience. Built to accommodate two cars, the garage is 19' square and contains a window in the back wall and another in the side wall.

Since the "Meadville" has a utility room on its first floor, the heating equipment is the only "must" installation for the basement, this should be placed under the living room. The rest of the cellar area can be put to use as you see fit.

Plans Available
Complete plans and specifications for the "Meadville," and other homes in this series, are available at moderate cost. To ascertain the exact price of these documents, write to the Home Building Editor, Dept. 18 The Gettysburg Times, and enclosing a self-addressed envelope bearing a three-cent stamp. At least one week should be allowed for a reply.

BUT RIGHT NOW, it may be that the money angle is the thing uppermost in your mind, and on that we'd like to make two points:

SMUTS DEATH TO BRING CHANGES IN SOUTH AFRICA

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
(AP Foreign Affairs Analyst)

The death of that great world figure, Field Marshal Jan Christian Smuts, removed the main link which has bound a wavering Union of South Africa to the British commonwealth of nations.

Thus it should cause no surprise if the Union breaks away before long and, like Southern Ireland, sets itself up in business as a republic. This is regarded as a distinct possibility by well-informed observers. Official circles in London are said to be worried.

Smuts was leader of the United party, which he founded largely to perpetuate the commonwealth. In fact, he WAS the party. Opposed to his program has been the Nationalist party which now is in power.

Changes Expected

The leader of the Nationalists is Prime Minister Daniel F. Malan, a former clergyman, who advocates separation from the commonwealth. Dr. Malan is a rather provincial and solid figure who has lacked the colorful leadership of the dynamic Smuts. However, there are a lot of folk in South Africa who subscribe to Malan's policies.

There also have been some in Smuts' own party, who while clinging to him through loyalty and admiration, have had leanings to some of the Nationalist party ideas, including separation. It has been the field marshal himself who has held them in line.

Now this great man, who was one of the originators of the commonwealth idea, is gone and the United party has lost its main element of cohesion. The way is open for striking developments in the Union of South Africa.

Greatest Son Gone

However, while the question of separation is paramount, this isn't the only great problem hanging over the country. There is the controversial policy of white supremacy and racial segregation maintained by the Malan government.

This racial issue is one of long standing, and its ramifications reach to far-away India. The Union of South Africa has a large population of Indians who have fallen under the segregation ban. The result has been the creation of bitterness in India and the lodging of formal complaints by the New Delhi government with the United Nations. Thus far there has been no sign of any change of heart in South Africa on this point.

And now Smuts' beloved South Africa, as she faces a critical period in her history, is deprived of the guidance of her greatest son.

Washington, Sept. 13 (AP)—Senators Martin (R) and Myers (D) of Pennsylvania were among the 70 members of the upper House that passed the McCarran Communist control bill yesterday.

But before the measure passed the Senate, the Pennsylvania Senators were split on the "concentration camp" substitute proposed by Senator Kilgore (D-W. Va.). Martin voted against Kilgore's proposal. Myers was paired for the amendment.

More Guardsmen Reach Atterbury

Camp Atterbury, Ind., Sept. 13 (AP)—The population of Camp Atterbury increased again today as more members of the 28th Division of the Pennsylvania National Guard arrived.

Four trainloads came into the camp yesterday, completing the movement of troops by train. The trucks start coming in today and all are expected by tomorrow. Actual training will not start until Monday.

Heavy rains fell most of the time as the troops left the trains yesterday, formed into companies and then piled into covered trucks for the trip to their barracks in the sprawling, soaked camp.

The Pennsylvania boys, however, didn't have to stand long in the rain. "We unloaded one train in nine minutes," said Brig. Gen. T. Linus Hoban, assistant division commander, who was on hand to direct one of the operations.

RUSSIANS CAST 45TH UN VETO

Lake Success, Sept. 13 (AP)—Security Council delegates, after witnessing Russia's 45th veto, began consultations today for the opening of the United Nations General Assembly next Tuesday.

Wary from six weeks of almost daily meetings, they voted to take the rest of the week off and meet for their last pre-assembly session next Monday. They will take up then Communist China's charges of U. S. aggression against the Island of Formosa.

Russia yesterday vetoed an American resolution to set up a commission to investigate other Red Chinese charges of American bombings of Manchuria. The Council then decisively defeated a Russian move to condemn the U. S. for the alleged attacks. Only the Soviet Union voted for its proposal.

Informed sources here speculated that delegates voted the long recess not only to go spare work in preparation for the opening of the U.N. General Assembly, to which they are also delegates, but to consult their governments on the Formosan issue.

They said such consultation was probably vital to the British, American and French representatives whose foreign ministers are trying to thrash out a Formosan policy at their meetings in New York.

8 MEN KILLED IN EXPLOSION AT POWDER PLANT

Eldred, Pa., Sept. 13 (AP)—A big dynamite blast killed eight men and shattered a large part of the plant of the National Powder company in this northwestern Pennsylvania town yesterday.

President William F. Grow of National powder was unable to estimate the property loss. He said work will continue and the ruined mixing house will be rebuilt.

The blast tore to bits some of the men working in the steel-and-frame structure. A list of the dead was withheld for five hours before being released by the coroner's office. Killed were:

Charles York, 22; Harry Nelson, 59; Carl Fitzgerald, 30; Robert Walker, 40; Gene Shepard, 24; James Silvis, 30; Earl Logie, 26; and C. A. Sherwood, 34. All lived in the vicinity of Eldred. Five or six other employees suffered minor injuries.

Heard 10 Miles Away

The explosion was heard 10 miles away and windows were shattered in a two-mile radius.

John McCord, sitting in an Eldred restaurant, said: "The windows started to rock—but they didn't break."

Employees of the Art-Lite Furniture company, across the valley from the blast, saw windows in their plant knocked out by the concussion.

Said one worker: "The blast kicked up dust on the floor and whirled it around our heads. It was like one of those western dust storms."

Citizens flocked into the streets by the hundreds. All of them have learned what an explosion means—something has gone wrong at the National Powder company, two miles out of town and employing 65 of Eldred's 2,000 residents.

So why hoard?

Franklin D. Roosevelt, our late President, once said, "There is nothing to fear but fear itself."

We all think a lot of those boys over in Korea, and we're not going to do the things that Malik and the rest of those birds in the Kremlin want us to do. In short . . . we are going to buy sensibly. We are not going to hoard, and we ARE going to invest more of our money in UNITED STATES SAVINGS BONDS

Macy's, the world's largest department store, recently advertised in New York newspapers to tell consumers that talk of shortages is "dangerous nonsense."

The supply of practically every commodity in the U.S. at present is more than adequate. Panicky buying can only cut down supplies and jack up prices. Remember, panic is caused by the character pictured above. ### Every Shoe Wearer Should Know This

A salesman from one of the largest manufacturers of shoes in America told me the other day, "I don't know of but one other shoe man in the country who sells shoes at as low prices as you do."

Surely, that should convince all shoe wearers that the best place to buy your shoes and rubbers is at HAINES, The Shoe Wizard stores.

We know why we are always right. Other people don't buy them at as low prices and they sell them on 35 to 40% profit and we mark them at a 28 to 33% profit.

So when you want to save money, just come to HAINES. The Shoe Wizard store that is in, or near your town.

Ashes In Fireplace Give Best Results

The neat housekeeper who keeps her fireplace free of ashes is an efficient fire-builder, according to home heating specialists, who regard a bed of glowing ashes as necessary for igniting logs which are placed on a fire. Fireplace heat losses may be minimized if one log is kept on the floor of the hearth against the back wall behind the andirons. This log prevents the draft from drawing the heat directly into the masonry, it is pointed out. Another suggested way to increase heating efficiency is to use only dry wood. Green wood is known to contain from 25 to 50 per cent of its weight in water. Before it will give off heat, much dry fuel is wasted in drying up the water. Neatness may be achieved around a fireplace by stacking logs systematically and by providing a container for kindling. Many home owners find that a galvanized steel coal hod makes a ideal receptacle for kindling. Such a hod is inexpensive, durable, fireproof and may be painted to match any decorative scheme. Army football teams were batting .700 before the 1950 campaign—the Cadets had won 358 games, lost 117 and tied 36 since the Academy began playing football in 1890.

MARSHALL GOES BACK TO CABINET IN DEFENSE POST QUIT BY JOHNSON

Washington, Sept. 13 (AP)—George Catlett Marshall, soldier by profession and diplomat by experience, is headed back to the pentagon to become secretary of defense.

President Truman turned to the 69-year-old, five-star general and former secretary of state to replace Louis Johnson.

Johnson, bowing to presidential will and the "enemies I have acquired during the 18 months I have served as a member of your cabinet," submitted his resignation yesterday.

Mr. Truman accepted it with official regret—but with alacrity.

Suddenly, in a single day, there were vacancies pending in the two top civilian posts of the huge and complex national military establishment.

For what appeared to be entirely personal reasons, Stephen Early resigned as deputy secretary. He had remained well past the year's leave granted him by the Pullman Standard Car Manufacturing company, so that he could return to government work.

None of the criticism that had welled up around Johnson had touched Early.

Johnson's resignation is effective next Tuesday, Early's September 30.

A Legal Hurdle

Johnson, in his resignation letter, said that Marshall was a "man of such stature that the very act of naming him to be secretary of defense will promote national and international unity."

The President heartily agreed, and most congressional leaders expressed accord, but there was a legal hurdle.

The law which created the unified Defense Department contains a clause prohibiting the appointment as defense secretary of any man who within ten years has been on active duty as a commissioned officer of the armed forces.

Marshall left the army as chief of staff soon after the end of World War II in 1945. In fact he still is on active duty under the provisions of the law creating the special five-star rank.

Congressional leaders thought they could get quick action on an amendment to the law to clear the way for Marshall's appointment.

Marshall, who has taken orders all his life, accepted Mr. Truman's request to come back, for the third time, to the pressures and urgencies and demands of Washington official life. From his Leesburg, Va., home the general told reporters the President asked if he would accept the defense post and that "I told him I would."

Marshall, with more than the 30 required years of military service behind him, took off his uniform in 1945, only to have Mr. Truman ask him shortly to go to China to see what might be done there by this country. He made that arduous and discouraging mission, came back, settled down to rest again—and was

Littlestown

Littlestown—Mr. and Mrs. Samuel H. Higinbotham entertained the teachers and guests of the beginners, primary and junior departments of Redeemer's Reformed Sunday school at their cottage, Marsh Creek Heights, Monday evening. Stapper was served on the porch which was followed by the first fall meeting of the teachers of these departments. Mrs. Melvin, Shanbrook, president, was in charge. She appointed the following committee, to arrange for a roast chicken and oyster supper to be served Friday, October 6, from 5 to 8 p.m., in the social hall of the church: Mrs. Melvin Shanbrook, chairman; Mrs. Edwin Crouse, Mrs. Samuel H. Higinbotham, Mrs. Wilbur A. Banker and Mrs. Herbert Hilkemeier. It was decided that the promotion of the children will be held on Rally Day, Sunday, September 24, during the Sunday school session. Mrs. Donald Arbogast donated the guest package which was received by Mrs. Paul Luckenbaugh. The next meeting will be held in January, 1947, to be secretary of state. He left the State Department post two years later and for a time was ill, recovering only after hospitalization and months of convalescence. Now he has been summoned again.

The speculation about an appointment to fill the vacancy caused by Early's resignation placed high up the name of Robert A. Lovett. He was undersecretary of state from 1947 to 1949, and he was assistant secretary of war for air during World War II.

Among the charges against Johnson—perhaps the one that eventually impelled Mr. Truman to remove him—was that he had invaded the foreign policy making field of Secretary of State Dean Acheson, that he and others of the military establishment had sought to impose military thinking on the United States' international diplomacy.

But Johnson's critics in and out of Congress didn't confine their accusations to the foreign policy matter alone.

When the Korean war flashed up and American troops were rolled back by onrushing Red hordes, the economy cutbacks in military spending which Johnson had ordered—and of which he had boasted—became the target of critics. They said his economies had weakened national defense.

Marshall left the army as chief of staff soon after the end of World War II in 1945. In fact he still is on active duty under the provisions of the law creating the special five-star rank.

Congressional leaders thought they could get quick action on an amendment to the law to clear the way for Marshall's appointment.

Everyday!...over 1000 new buyers choose the 1951 Kaiser!

...from coast-to-coast this Triumph of Anatomic Design is a tremendous success!

Way back in February, the first models of the brilliant new 1951 Kaiser were publicly previewed in major cities across the nation. The reaction was immediate. Spontaneous enthusiasm from all who saw this great new car. Then, beginning on May 10th, the 1951 Kaiser was put to the acid test: it was offered generally for sale to the American public in dealer showrooms from coast-to-coast. The result? Everywhere, new owners are acclaiming its spectacular, low-slung beauty... its landscape-sweeping Control Tower Vision... its easy-to-enter High Bridge Doors... its road-hugging low center of gravity... the sensational performance of its new Supersonic Engine. The unprecedented demand for these new cars clearly establishes the 1951 Kaiser as the value leader in the medium price field. Indeed, a majority of buyers of new 1951 Kaisers are trading-in late models of other makes...to own the only really new car you can buy!

Despite extended work-days and the huge facilities of the Willow Run plant, the list of unfilled orders for spectacular new 1951 Kaisers lengthens every day. Therefore, we suggest that an order placed now assures you of earliest possible delivery of the most exciting new car in America.

MARSHALL GOES BACK TO CABINET IN DEFENSE POST QUIT BY JOHNSON

Washington, Sept. 13 (AP)—George Catlett Marshall, soldier by profession and diplomat by experience, is headed back to the pentagon to become secretary of defense.

President Truman turned to the 69-year-old, five-star general and former secretary of state to replace Louis Johnson.

Johnson, bowing to presidential will and the "enemies I have acquired during the 18 months I have served as a member of your cabinet," submitted his resignation yesterday. Mr. Truman accepted it with official regret—but with alacrity.

Suddenly, in a single day, there were vacancies pending in the two top civilian posts of the huge and complex national military establishment.

For what appeared to be entirely personal reasons, Stephen Early resigned as deputy secretary. He had remained well past the year's leave granted him by the Pullman Standard Car Manufacturing company, so that he could return to government work. None of the criticism that had welled up around Johnson had touched Early.

Johnson's resignation is effective next Tuesday, Early's September 30.

A Legal Hurdle

Johnson, in his resignation letter, said that Marshall was a "man of such stature that the very act of naming him to be secretary of defense will promote national and international unity."

The President heartily agreed, and most congressional leaders expressed accord, but there was a legal hurdle.

The law which created the unified Defense Department contains a clause prohibiting the appointment as defense secretary of any man who within ten years has been on active duty as a commissioned officer of the armed forces.

Marshall left the army as chief of staff soon after the end of World War II in 1945. In fact he still is on active duty under the provisions of the law creating the special five-star rank.

Congressional leaders thought they could get quick action on an amendment to the law to clear the way for Marshall's appointment.

Marshall, who has taken orders all his life, accepted Mr. Truman's request to come back, for the third time, to the pressures and urgencies and demands of Washington official life. From his Leesburg, Va., home the general told reporters the President asked if he would accept the defense post and that "I told him I would."

Marshall, with more than the 30 required years of military service behind him, took off his uniform in 1945, only to have Mr. Truman ask him shortly to go to China to see what might be done there by this country. He made that arduous and discouraging mission, came back, settled down to rest again—and was

Littlestown

Littlestown—Mr. and Mrs. Samuel H. Higinbotham entertained the teachers and guests of the beginning, primary and junior departments of Redeemer's Reformed Sunday school at their cottage, Marsh Creek Heights, Monday evening. Supper was served on the porch which was followed by the first fall meeting of the teachers of these departments. Mrs. Melvin Shanbrook, president, was in charge. She appointed the following committee to arrange for a roast chicken and oyster supper to be served Friday, October 6, from 5 to 8 p.m., in the social hall of the church: Mrs. Melvin Shanbrook, chairman; Mrs. Edwin Crouse, Mrs. Samuel H. Higinbotham, Mrs. Wilbur A. Bankert and Mrs. Herbert Hilkemeier. It was decided that the promotion of the children will be held on Rally Day, Sunday, September 24, during the Sunday school session. Mrs. Donald Arbogast donated the guest package which was received by Mrs. Paul Luckenbaugh. The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Edwin Crouse, Monday, October 2, at 7:30 p.m. Those present Monday night were: Rev. and Mrs. Frank E. Reynolds and children; Mr. and Mrs. Allen Shanbrook and son, Allen; Mrs. Wilbur A. Bankert and son, Dean; Mr. and Mrs. Donald Arbogast, Donald and Terry; Mrs. Herbert Hilkemeier and daughter, Ellen; Mrs. Edwin Crouse and daughters, Eileen and Diane; Mrs. Theron Basehoar and son, Steven; Mrs. Paul Luckenbaugh and Nena Jane; Mr. and Mrs. George Conover; Helen Jacobs and Mr. and Mrs. Samuel H. Higinbotham and daughter, Phyllis.

The monthly meeting of the Ladies' Auxiliary of the Kingsdale Volunteer Fire company was held Monday evening in the fire hall. There were 20 members and one visitor in attendance. Mrs. Ernest Baumgardner presented the treasurer's report. All bills were ordered paid. An appreciation luncheon will be served by the auxiliary on Friday, September 22, at 7 p.m., in the fire hall for the firemen and their families and others who helped to work at the recent carnival. Any person who wishes to donate a chicken or any other food for this event is asked to contact any of the officers of the auxiliary. Special entertainment is also being arranged. A letter of appreciation was sent to A. W. Schott called back in January, 1947, to be secretary of state. He left the State Department post two years later and for a time was ill, recovering only after hospitalization and months of convalescence. Now he has been summoned again.

The speculation about an appointee to fill the vacancy caused by Early's resignation placed high up the name of Robert A. Lovett. He was undersecretary of state from 1947 to 1949. And he was assistant secretary of war for air during World War II.

Among the charges against Johnson—perhaps the one that eventually impelled Mr. Truman to remove him—was that he had invaded the foreign policy making field of Secretary of State Dean Acheson, that he and others of the military establishment had sought to impose military thinking on the United States' international diplomacy.

But Johnson's critics in and out of Congress didn't confine their accusations to the foreign policy matter alone.

When the Korean war flashed up and American troops were rolled back by onrushing Red hordes, the economy cutbacks in military spending which Johnson had ordered—and of which he had boasted—became the target of critics. They said his economies had weakened national defense.

Built-In Buffet Adds Dining Space

To save space in the dining area, build in a sill-height buffet beneath a group of two or three windows the full width of the windows. Place glass shelves across the windows for display of china and prized glassware. Use the top of the buffet for large pottery and silver pieces.

Hang narrow draperies no wider than the window frames they are to cover. Give the room a smart, modern appearance by installing

Everyday!...over 1000 new buyers choose the 1951 Kaiser!

...from coast-to-coast this Triumph of Anatomic Design is a tremendous success!

Way back in February, the first models of the brilliant new 1951 Kaiser were publicly previewed in major cities across the nation. The reaction was immediate. Spontaneous enthusiasm from all who saw this great new car. Then, beginning on May 10th, the 1951 Kaiser was put to the acid test: it was offered generally for sale to the American public in dealer showrooms from coast-to-coast.

The result? Everywhere, new owners are acclaiming its spectacular, low-slung beauty... its landscape-sweeping Control Tower Vision... its easy-to-enter High Bridge Doors... its road-hugging low center of gravity... the sensational performance of its new Supersonic Engine.

The unprecedented demand for these new cars clearly establishes the 1951 Kaiser as the value leader in the medium price field. Indeed, a majority of buyers of new 1951 Kaisers are trading-in late models of other makes...to own the only really new car you can buy!

Despite extended work-days and the huge facilities of the Willow Run plant, the list of unfilled orders for spectacular new 1951 Kaisers lengthens every day.

Therefore, we suggest that an order placed now assures you of earliest possible delivery of the most exciting new car in America.

Every Shoe Wearer Should Know This

A salesman from one of the largest manufacturers of shoes in America told me the other day, "I don't know of but one other shoe man in the country who sells shoes at as low prices as you do."

Surely, that should convince all shoe wearers that the best place to buy your shoes and rubbers is at HAINES, The Shoe Wizard stores.

We know why we are always right. Other people don't buy them at as low prices and they sell them on 35 to 40% profit and we mark them at a 25 to 35% profit.

So when you want to save money, just come to HAINES, The Shoe Wizard store that is in, or near your town.

Washington, Sept. 13 (AP) — President Truman Tuesday gave Democratic leaders his clearance for Congress to quit as soon as it has completed action on emergency matters now pending. ## Ashes In Fireplace Give Best Results

The neat housekeeper who keeps her fireplace free of ashes is an inefficient fire-builder, according to home heating specialists, who regard a bed of glowing ashes as necessary for igniting logs which are placed on a fire.

Fireplace heat losses may be minimized if one log is kept on the floor of the hearth against the back wall behind the andirons. This log prevents the draft from drawing the heat directly into the masonry.

it is pointed out.

Another suggested way to increase heating efficiency is to use only dry wood. Green wood is known to contain from 25 to 50 per cent of its weight in water. Before it will give off heat, much dry fuel is wasted in drying up the water.

Neatness may be achieved around a fireplace by stacking logs systematically and by providing a container for kindling. Many home owners find that a galvanized steel coal hod makes a ideal receptacle for kindling. Such a hood is inexpensive, durable, fireproof and may be painted to match any decorative scheme.
